PREFACE

The University of Adelaide owes its origin to an act of far-seeing and generous self-denial. In 1872, Mr (afterwards Sir) Walter Watson Hughes offered an endowment of $40,000 to Union College, an institution then established in Adelaide for the better education of Presbyterian, Congregational and Baptist clergy. The Council of the College generously suggested to Mr Hughes that his gift should be devoted to the more general object of founding a University. Mr Hughes agreed to the proposal, an association was formed to further the project, the Honourable (afterwards Sir) Thomas Elder offered another $40,000, and as a result the University of Adelaide was established in 1874 by Act of Parliament passed by the South Australian Legislature.

The Act of Incorporation provided, inter alia, for an annual subsidy of five per cent on the capital funds of the University up to a maximum in any one year of $20,000, an endowment of 50,000 acres (20,235 hectares) of land, and a grant of 5 acres (about 2 hectares) in the City of Adelaide as a site for the University buildings. Country lands were purchased in 1915 and the Waite Agricultural Research Institute was subsequently established in 1924 at Glen Osmond where it now occupies a site of over 160 hectares. In 1990 agreements were signed for the University of Adelaide to merge with Roseworthy Agricultural College and the City Campus of the South Australian College of Advanced Education as from 1 January 1991. In 1990 the University also acquired a 3.3 hectare site at Thebarton for development as a Commerce and Research Precinct. The mergers and the acquisition saw the University of Adelaide enter the 1990s as a medium sized multi-campus university offering a wide range of undergraduate and postgraduate courses and programs over four campuses.

The academic work of the University began in March, 1876, with four professors, three part-time lecturers, a registrar-librarian, and 8 matriculated and 52 non-graduating students attending classes in Arts and Science subjects.

In 1880 the University was authorised by Act of Parliament to grant degrees to women, and in 1881 Her Majesty Queen Victoria issued letters patent declaring that the degrees granted by it should be recognised as academic distinctions and rewards of merit and be entitled to rank, precedence, and consideration throughout the British Empire as if granted by any University in the United Kingdom. A supplementary charter was granted by letters patent in 1913.

Teaching began in a city building. The foundation stone of the first University building was laid in 1879 and the building was opened in 1882. The only additions during the next twenty years were extensions to the original building; but early in the new century came the Elder Conservatorium of Music, the Prince of Wales building (then used for Science and Engineering) and the Anatomy school. In the interval between the two world wars the Darling building, the Physics building, the Union buildings (including the Lady Symon and the George Murray), the Johnson Chemistry laboratories, the Barr Smith Library, and the Benham laboratories were added on the University site.

The war of 1939-45 brought with it new obligations for the University, first in training enough professional people to meet the needs of the services and ancillary industry, and then in training for the professions the large numbers of ex-service men and women who were eligible to enrol under the Commonwealth Reconstruction Training Scheme. To discharge these obligations fully the University needed greatly expanded accommodation, equipment and staff. Established by the Commonwealth Government in 1942, and charged with administering the Commonwealth Reconstruction Training Scheme so far as students training for the professions were concerned, the original Universities Commission greatly helped the University in securing the necessary finance from the Commonwealth Government. With capital advances amounting in all to about $686,000 thus provided, extensions were made to the laboratories for physics, chemistry and agricultural science, new buildings for mathematics, for mechanical engineering, for civil, electrical, mining and metallurgical engineering, and for the medical school were erected, and extensive equipment for the engineering and science departments was obtained. Under an Act of the State Parliament in 1946, the Treasurer, with the approval of the Governor, guaranteed payment by the University to the Commonwealth for all or any of the extensions and additions to the buildings and plant of the University, the cost of which had been provided by the Commonwealth. And over three financial years beginning in 1947 the State Parliament granted a further $420,000 to enable the University to complete the final unit - the Mawson laboratories for geology - in a building programme which affected every faculty. In 1954 it gave another $100,000 to enable another floor to be added to the medical school for the accommodation of the department of bacteriology (now microbiology and immunology).

In 1950 the State Government undertook to ask Parliament to provide for the University each year an annual grant sufficient to enable the University to maintain its work on a basis equivalent to that of the Universities in the eastern states of Australia.

The report of the Murray Committee on Australian Universities in 1957 marked the beginning of a new era of rapid expansion of the University, an expansion fostered by the Australian Universities Commission in 1960 and 1963. The building programme approved for the nine years from 1958 at a cost exceeding $6,000,000, to be met jointly by the Commonwealth and the State, provided for new buildings for arts and economics, biological sciences, physics, chemistry, and physical education, and for substantial additions to the library, the medical school, the engineering school and the Union buildings. At the Waite Institute a separate building was provided for the library and substantial additions made to the central laboratories. The reports also made provision for an increasing annual income to the University designed to provide for the rapidly growing demands upon it.

Provision for building in the 1967-9 triennium included a new building for the law school, completion of reconstruction of the dental hospital which includes the dental school of the University, the first stage of expansion of the library and accommodation for the department of architecture, and the first stage of an annex to the physics building to accommodate the Mawson Institute for Antarctic Research, the department of mathematical physics and advanced work in physics. Grants from non-government sources provided ancillary laboratories and facilities at the Waite Agricultural Research Institute. The Fourth Report of the Commission provided for Stage II of the library complex (which in addition to providing for the expansion of the library houses the departments of architecture and computer science, the computing centre, the University club and other facilities of the University), for reconstruction and expansion of the Union buildings (to which the Union itself contributed the greater part of the cost) and for expanded accommodation for the engineering school, physics and its associated disciplines, and for the Waite Institute. For the triennium 1973-75 provision was made by the Commission in its Fifth Report for two new buildings to replace the Prince of Wales Building, a substantial expansion of the Mawson Laboratories (for geophysics), completion of the rebuilding of the Union, and a number of smaller modifications and extensions of existing accommodation and facilities. The two new buildings were completed in 1974 and were named the Hughes Building and the Kenneth Wills Building; they house part of the administration, the department of psychology and a series of service units, and they also provide some additional academic accommodation. In 1976, the Commission provided funds for the construction of a new medical sciences building adjacent to the existing medical school on Frome Road. This building was completed in 1979 and was officially opened by the Governor-General of Australia in October, 1979.

Other significant improvements have taken place since this time by refurbishing laboratories and specialised teaching facilities to meet the needs of changing technology. Several computer aided teaching suites have been developed, a comprehensive D.N.A. laboratory established, library facilities modernised and some of the older facilities refurbished. The reticulated services and major items of plant serving the University buildings have also received considerable attention and consequent rejuvenation.

In 1984 an extension was made to the engineering building to provide more suitable laboratory accommodation for chemical engineering. The Barr Smith Library had further extensions made in 1985 including a new entrance on the western side. The continuing need for growth in library accommodation was partially relieved by constructing in 1984 a library store at The Flinders University of South Australia. Both institutions share this low capital cost and low recurrent cost facility which has an initial storage capacity of 375,000 books with provision for doubling that amount in the future. The government, in support of its initiative for training in engineering, provided funds for additions to the Mechanical Engineering building, commencing with a new engine test facility in 1986 followed by a $5 million extension completed in 1989.

Earlier, investment in commercial properties across North Terrace became increasingly used by the University during the 1990s. A major expansion in University property occurred in 1991 as a result of the merging with Roseworthy Agricultural College and the City Campus of the South Australian College of Advanced Education. The latter adjoined the North Terrace campus of the University on Kintore Avenue. The mergers increased the University's gross floor area by one third to 200,000 square metres and the total of buildings to over 340.

Two other major property acquisitions were made in 1990/91. These were a 3.3 hectare former industrial complex on the River Torrens at Thebarton and the site containing three buildings and an underground car park at the corner of Pulteney Street and North Terrace. The Thebarton site has now been developed as a Commerce and Research Precinct and now forms the University's Thebarton Campus.

From 1992 to 1996, the Waite Campus underwent major building activity as part of a project funded jointly by the University, the State Government and CSIRO to relocate related agricultural research on the one site. This resulted in a number of new buildings on the Waite Campus including; the Plant Research Centre for the State Government, the Prescott Building for CSIRO, a new child care centre, the Woolhouse Library and a refectory for the University. All partners share in the use of these facilities as well as refurbished existing facilities. The rehabilitation and fire and life safety upgrading of the G.M. Badger Laboratories and the Napier Building were completed in 1993.

In addition to receiving Government support, the University from its foundation has been fortunate in the number and extent of the benefactions it has received from private citizens and public companies, and many important developments within the University, both in buildings and in staff, have been the outcome of such private support.

The present size of the University may be gauged from the fact that in 1994 it spent approximately $217 million. Its total staff (full time equivalent) as at 31 March 1995 numbered 2,426 and in 1995 13,944 students were enrolled.

From its foundation until 1911 the University was governed by a Council of 20 members elected by the Senate; in that year Parliament assumed power to add five of its members. University-wide consideration of a root-and-branch reconstitution of the administrative organisation of the University began in 1968, and a new University Act was passed in 1971. The new Act continued the provision for the Chancellor and the Vice-Chancellor to be ex officio members of the Council and for Parliament to appoint five members. The Senate (previously confined to the University's own graduates of three years' standing or holding a degree of Master or Doctor) was expanded to include all graduates, all full-time graduate members of the staff, and all postgraduate students; and it ceased to be the electorate of the Council. The Act established a Convocation of Electors comprising all the University's graduates and postgraduate students and all persons in the full-time employment of the University and the University Union. The Convocation elected 22 members of the Council of whom eight were to be members of the academic staff, one a member of the full-time non-academic staff, one a postgraduate student, and 12 not engaged in the employment of the University. The Act also provided for the undergraduates to elect four members of the Council, which thus comprised a total of 33 members.

In 1978 the University Act was amended and as from the appointed day in November, 1978, the number of members of the Council was increased to 35 by increasing the number to be elected by the Convocation to 24. The number of members not engaged in the employment of the University was increased to 13 and the provision for one member to be a person on the full-time non-academic staff was replaced by a provision for one member to be a person on the full-time ancillary staff and another member to be a person on the full-time staff other than as a member of the academic or ancillary staff.

Before coming into operation all statutes and regulations must be approved both by the Council and by the Senate and be confirmed by the Governor of South Australia, who is ex officio Visitor to the University.

Chapter XII.— Of Conduct of Students in the University

General

1. In this Statute, unless the context otherwise requires - “defendant” means a student against whom a complaint of misconduct has been made and, if more than one student is charged with misconduct arising out of the same situation or circumstance, includes all such students charged (notwithstanding that the Convener of the Board of Conduct may order that a complaint against one defendant be heard separately from a complaint against another defendant).

"expulsion" means the cancellation of enrolment of a student and termination of all rights and privileges as a student of the University including the right to enter or to be on University grounds or premises.

"lower tribunal" means any person or body, other than the Board of Conduct, established by a statute, rule, regulation or by-law of the University, with power to impose penalties on students for misconduct.

"Mediator" means the person appointed as Mediator under clause 5 of this Statute.

"member of academic staff" means a person classified by the Council as a member of the academic staff of the University.

"member of the University" means a student, a member of the academic staff or a full-time or part-time employee of the University.

"misconduct" means any act or omission of a student prohibited by a statute, rule, regulation or by-law of the University, and any other unjustified act or omission of a student which adversely affects the University or any member of the University in his or her capacity as such.

"student" means any person, other than a member of the academic staff of the University or a full-time employee of the University, enrolled as a candidate for a degree, diploma, or certificate or for any course of study offered by the University for a degree, diploma or certificate.

"suspension" means the cancellation of enrolment of a student and the suspension for a specified time of all rights and privileges as a student of the University including the right to re-enrol as a student and the right to enter or to be on University grounds or premises.

"University grounds" has the same meaning as in the University of Adelaide Act, 1971, as amended.

2. Unless another statute, regulation, by-law or rule shall provide another process any complaint of misconduct brought by a member of the University against a student shall be dealt with in accordance with the provisions of this statute.

3. A member of the University who wishes to proceed against a student under the terms of this statute shall make a written complaint to the Registrar or to an officer of the Registry appointed for the purpose.

4. Upon receipt of the complaint the Registrar or appointed person shall send a printed copy of the complaint to the student and to the Mediator.

The Mediator

5. (a) There shall be a Mediator appointed by the Council from among the academic staff for a term of two or three years. The Mediator shall not be a member of Council.

(b) The Mediator shall consider every complaint of misconduct brought under this statute, and shall attempt to resolve the complaint by mediation and conciliation.

(c) Before the Mediator attempts to resolve any complaint by mediation, the Mediator shall ensure that the student has received a copy of the complaint.

(d) The Mediator may inspect any material or document relevant to a complaint, but shall not publish or disclose any document or information without the consent of the owner and the author of the document and of any person to whom the document or information particularly relates.

(e) The Mediator shall not act in respect of a complaint which concerns the Mediator's Department or in which the Mediator was personally involved; but the Vice-Chancellor may appoint another mediator to act in respect of the complaint.

(f) Where a finding of misconduct and a penalty are agreed upon by the parties as a result of the Mediator's actions, the parties and the Mediator shall sign a statement of the agreed settlement, which shall be registered with the Board of Conduct. Neither party to a settlement so registered may subsequently take the matter to the Board of Conduct.

(g) The Mediator is ineligible to be a member of the Board of Conduct during his or her term of office, or in relation to any matter in which he or she acted as Mediator.

6. If the Mediator is unable to resolve the matter by mediation the Mediator shall refer the matter to the Board of Conduct.

The Board of Conduct

7. (a) There shall be a Board of Conduct appointed by the Council on the recommendation of the Vice-Chancellor.

(b) The Board shall consist of: (i) a Convener, with appropriate legal qualifications and experience, who shall not be a staff or student member of the University, appointed for a term of three years; (ii) four members of the academic staff, appointed for terms of two or three years; (iii) four students appointed for terms of one or two years.

(c) For each case the Convener shall select two staff and two student members who, with the Convener, shall constitute the Board of Conduct.

(d) No member of the Council shall be a member of the Board of Conduct; any member of the Board who is elected to the Council shall thereupon cease to be a member of the Board.

(e) No member of the Board of Conduct shall serve on the hearing of a matter if the person alleged to have committed the misconduct is a student in the same Department, or if the member was directly and particularly affected by the alleged misconduct. Should more than two staff members, or more than two student members, be so disqualified from serving on a hearing, the Vice-Chancellor shall appoint additional members for that hearing.

(f) If the Convener disqualifies himself or herself from a hearing or is otherwise unavailable the Vice-Chancellor shall appoint a substitute Convener.

(g) At a hearing of the Board, five members shall constitute a quorum PROVIDED that if after fifteen minutes have elapsed from the time appointed for the hearing there is no quorum but there are at least three members present including the Convener, and if the defendant consents, those members shall constitute the Board for that hearing.

8. (a) The Convener shall be responsible for conducting the proceedings of the Board, determining any dispute as to the constitution and jurisdiction of the Board and the admissibility of evidence, and shall determine matters of procedure.

(b) Except as provided in sub-clause (a) all decisions of the Board shall be determined by an absolute majority of those members who constitute the Board for a particular hearing. Where there is an equality of votes, the Convener shall in addition have a casting vote.

(c) The Board or, where the Board is not yet convened, the Convener may in special cases order that some or all of the costs incurred by a defendant in defending a case under this statute shall be met by the University.

(d) If during the hearing of a matter one or more members of the Board become unavailable to act and a quorum (as defined in Clause 7(g)) cannot be obtained, the hearing of the matter shall cease and a newly-constituted Board shall begin the matter afresh.

9. Subject to the provisions of any statute, regulation, by-law or rule to the contrary the Board shall have jurisdiction to hear and determine:

(a) a complaint referred by the Mediator.

(b) an appeal by a defendant from a decision of a lower tribunal imposing a penalty for misconduct.

(b) The Convener may order that a penalty imposed on a defendant by a lower tribunal be suspended, pending the hearing and determination of an appeal.

11. (a) The Board in the hearing of matters before it shall comply with principles of natural justice, and in particular: (i) shall give a defendant in writing details of the misconduct alleged against him or her, including a copy of any document admitted as evidence by the Convener; (ii) shall give a defendant the opportunity to be heard; (iii) shall allow a defendant to be present throughout the hearing (unless excluded by the Convener for wilfully disrupting proceedings); (iv) shall give a statement of reasons for any decision, which shall include an account of facts and evidence on which the decision is based.

(b) The Board shall not be bound by the law of evidence in the hearing of a complaint.

(c) The Board may refuse to proceed with the hearing of a complaint on grounds of triviality or that the defendant has made sufficient recompense;

(d) The Board may, on such conditions as to confidentiality as the Convener may determine, require the production of material or document in the possession or control of the University or a member of the University, which is relevant to a complaint or appeal. In so doing the Convener shall take into account the policy of the University with regard to confidentiality of documents.

12. (a) The Board, on determining any complaint or appeal, may impose the following penalties, which may be cumulative: (i) a reprimand; (ii) a fine of up to $200; (iii) cancellation of enrolment in one, some or all subjects in which the student was enrolled; (iv) suspension for a period of not more than one year of the right to use any University facility or building which was abused in committing the offence; (v) prohibition from entering the grounds or a specified part thereof for a period not exceeding three years; (vi) suspension from the University for a period not exceeding three years; (vii) expulsion from membership of the University; (viii) any other penalty provided for in a statute, rule, regulation or by-law of the University.

(b) The Board may impose as a default penalty any of the penalties specified in Clause 12 (a).

13. The Board in hearing an appeal: (a) may confirm, vary or quash the decision of the lower tribunal; (b) may confirm, reduce or quash the penalty, or substitute another penalty.

14. The Board shall report to the Council its decisions on all hearings before it.

Lower Tribunals

15. Any lower tribunal: (a) shall give a defendant details in writing of the alleged misconduct; (b) shall give the defendant the opportunity to be heard;

(c) may refuse to proceed with the hearing of a complaint on the grounds of triviality, or that the defendant has made sufficient recompense;

(d) on determining that the defendant is guilty of the misconduct alleged, except as specifically provided for by the statute, regulation, by-law or rule establishing it, may impose one or more of the following penalties: (i) a reprimand; (ii) a fine of not more than $50 for each offence; (iii) suspension for a period of not more than sixty days of the right to use any University facility or building which was abused in committing the misconduct; (iv) any other penalty specifically provided in the relevant statute, rule, regulation or by-law; (v) may impose a default penalty;

- (a) to present his or her case orally and in writing, or to appoint another student or a member of the academic staff or an officer of the University or a students' association or, in the case of the Board of Conduct, a legal representative, as agent to present the case on behalf of the defendant;
- (b) to call witnesses on his or her behalf; and
- (c) personally or through the appointed agent to question the complainant and any person giving evidence in the matter.

19. A fine imposed on a student under this statute which has not been cancelled or remitted shall be a debt owed to the University which may be recovered in the appropriate court.

Chapter XIII.-Of The Angas Engineering Scholarship and the Angas Engineering Exhibition

Whereas on the 4th day of January, 1878, the Honourable John Howard Angas, M.L.C., paid the sum of £4,000 to the University for the purpose of permanently founding (with the income thereof and the annual grant payable in respect thereof under the fifteenth section of the Adelaide University Act), the Angas Engineering Scholarship and the Angas Engineering Exhibitions, to encourage the training of scientific men, and especially engineers, with a view to their settlement in South Australia: Now it is hereby provided as follows:

A. The Angas Engineering Scholarship

1. There shall be a scholarship called "The Angas Engineering Scholarship" of the value of $800, with an additional allowance of $200 for travelling expenses.

1A. The tenure of the scholarship shall normally be for two years, but if the scholar wishes to follow an approved course of study or research work at a university the Council may allow the whole value of the scholarship to be paid to the scholar in a shorter period than two years.

2. Each candidate for the scholarship must be under twenty-five years of age on the first day of the month in which he shall compete for it, and must have resided in South Australia for at least five years. He shall produce such evidence of good health as shall be satisfactory to the Council.

3. Candidates for the scholarship must have graduated in arts or science, or have passed all the examinations necessary for graduating in engineering at the University of Adelaide.

4. The scholarship shall be competed for biennially, in the month of June. If on any competition the examiners shall not consider any candidate worthy to receive it, the scholarship shall for that year lapse, but shall be again competed for in the month of June next ensuing.

5. The scholarship shall be awarded by the examiners on a comparison of the academic records of the candidates, and also on the merits of an original thesis, design, or investigation, as set forth in the next paragraph.

Each candidate for the scholarship must send in to the examiners, on or before 1 June of the year in which the competition is held, either an original engineering thesis or design, or a paper setting forth the results of an original scientific investigation made by the candidate in some subject allied to engineering. The subject of the thesis, design, or investigation, must have been submitted at least two months previously to the Faculty of Engineering, and approved by it. Each candidate must adduce, if required, sufficient evidence of the authenticity of his thesis, design, or investigation. He may, if the examiners think fit, be required to pass an examination in that branch of the work from which the subject of his thesis, design, or investigation, is taken.

Either the original or an approved copy of each thesis, design, or report of an investigation submitted by a successful candidate for the scholarship shall be deposited by the scholar in the University library before payment of any portion of the scholarship is made.

6. Within such time after gaining the scholarship as the Council shall in each case allow, the scholar shall proceed to the United Kingdom and there spend the whole of the time during which the scholarship is tenable in gaining engineering knowledge and experience in such a manner as may be approved by the Council; provided that the scholar may by special permission of the Council spend the whole or part of his time in study or practical training outside the United Kingdom.

7. The allowance for travelling expenses shall be paid to the scholar upon approval of his proposed date of departure. Payment of the balance of the scholarship shall be made in two equal instalments. The first instalment shall be paid prior to the scholar's departure and the other after the first twelve months, subject to receipt by the Registrar of satisfactory evidence of continuous progress in engineering studies, according to the course proposed to be followed by the scholar.

8. Whenever such evidence is not satisfactory, the Council may altogether withhold, or may suspend for such time as it may deem proper, payment of the whole or of such portion as it may think fit of any moneys due, or to accrue due, to the scholar on account of the scholarship, or may deprive him of this scholarship.

9. Should any successful candidate not retain the scholarship for the full period of two years, notice of the vacancy shall be published by the Council in the Adelaide daily papers, and an examination shall be held in the month of June next ensuing.

B. The Angas Engineering Exhibition

10. There shall be four Angas Engineering Exhibitions, of which one maybe awarded each year. Each exhibition shall be of the annual value of $30, and be tenable for four years 11.

(a) One Angas Engineering Exhibition shall be offered for competition in the month of November or December of each year, and shall be awarded on the results of candidates at the Matriculation Examination in such subjects as may be prescribed by the Council from time to time; but no award shall be made unless there is a candidate of sufficient merit.

(b) A candidate for an exhibition shall enter for it on a form to be obtained from the Registrar, not later than the first day of October in the year of competition.

(c) A candidate shall not be more than eighteen years of age on the 31st December in the year in which the examination is held, and, before being awarded an exhibition, shall have fulfilled the requirements for matriculation Examination.

12. A candidate shall not be more than eighteen years of age on the 31st December in the year in which the examination is held, and, before being awarded an exhibition, shall have fulfilled the requirements for matriculation in the Faculty in which he desires to enrol.

13. (a) Each exhibitioner shall, within such time as may be approved in each case, enrol himself as a matriculated student in engineering or science at the University of Adelaide, and shall hence forward prosecute continuously and with diligence his studies for the degree of Bachelor of Engineering or Bachelor of Science.

(b) At the time of enrolment each year the exhibitor shall submit his proposed course of study for approval by the appropriate officer of the faculty concerned; and he shall not undertake, either in the University or elsewhere, studies not so approved.

(c) The exhibition shall be forfeited if the holder fails to make satisfactory progress in any year, unless such failure shall, in the opinion of the Council, have been caused by ill-health or other unavoidable cause. The decision of the Council as to such forfeiture shall be final.

14. Payment of an exhibition shall be made in three equal instalments, one at the beginning of each academic term, but payment shall not be made to any exhibitor whose conduct and diligence as a student throughout the preceding term have not been satisfactory to the Council. The decision of the Council on any such question shall be final.

15. Except by permission of the Council, an exhibitor shall not hold concurrently with his exhibition any other exhibition, bursary, or scholarship.

C. General

16. The sum of £4,000, paid to the University as aforesaid by the said John Howard Angas, shall be invested in such a manner as to entitle the University to the annual grant, equal to five pounds per centum per annum thereon, under the fifteenth section of the Adelaide University Act. The income (including such grant) to be derived from the said sum, or so much of such income as shall be sufficient, shall be applied in paying the said scholarship and exhibitions, and so much of such income as in any year shall not be so applied shall be at the disposal of the Council for the purposes of the University.

17. These statutes may be varied from time to time, but the title and general purpose of the scholarship and exhibitions shall not be changed.

Statute allowed 6 December 1922.

Amended: 30 Nov. 1933: 1A, 5; 15 Dec. 1937: 5; 23 Jan. 1947: 1; 25 Aug. 1955: Part B; 22 Dec. 1966: 11(a), 11(c); 15 Jan. 1976: 7; 24 Feb. 1983: 7, 11.

Chapter XIV.—Of The John Howard Clark Prize and the John Howard Clark Scholar

Whereas the University of Adelaide has received and has invested the sum of £500 for the purpose of perpetuating the name of John Howard Clark: And whereas it was agreed with the donors that the word "income" in these statutes should include not only the interest to accrue from the said sum, but grants to be received from the Government in respect thereof:

It is hereby provided that:

1. There shall be an annual prize, to be called "The John Howard Clark Prize", which shall consist of one-half the annual income of the fund received by the University as aforesaid.
2. The prize shall be awarded to the candidate for the Honours degree of Bachelor of Arts who shall have been placed highest in the final examination in the school of English Language and Literature, and shall be judged by the examiners to have reached a sufficient standard.
3. If more than one candidate shall be considered by the examiners to have attained a standard worthy of the prize, the name of the second in order of merit shall be reported to the Council.
4. If the examiners shall consider no candidate worthy of the prize, they shall so report, and no award shall be made for that year; but there shall not, by reason of that lapse, be more than one prizeman in the following year.
5. The prizeman will be required to proceed to the degree of Master of Arts or Doctor of Philosophy by submission of a satisfactory thesis on a subject connected with the English language or with English literature and approved by the Faculty of Arts. The subject must be submitted for approval by the Faculty not later than the first day of April following the award. When the thesis has been accepted as fulfilling the requirements for the degree of Master of Arts or Doctor of Philosophy, the prizeman shall deposit an approved copy of it in the University library; he shall then receive a further payment of one-half of the income available from the fund, and shall be granted the title of "John Howard Clark Scholar". If the thesis be not accepted as fulfilling the requirements for the degree of Master of Arts or Doctor of Philosophy, such payment and such title shall be withheld.

6. The prizeman may at any time during the year following the original award be called upon by the Council to give proof that he is devoting himself to the study of Literature, with a view to producing a sufficient thesis. If he fails to give such proof when called upon, or if in any respect he fails to comply with the conditions of these statutes or to comport himself to the satisfaction of the Council, he may, by resolution of the Council, be deprived of all further rights as a prizeman. In such case, or in case of resignation by the prizeman of his rights, the candidate who was placed second to him in the original award may be allowed, on such conditions as the Council may approve, to prepare and present a thesis and to qualify for the title of scholar.

Statute allowed 2 December 1926.

Amended: 3 Jan. 1935: 5; 31 Jan. 1980: 5.

Chapter XV.— Of The Stow Prizes and Scholars

Whereas a sum of five hundred pounds was subscribed with the intention of founding prizes in memory of the late Randolph Isham Stow, sometime one of the Justices of Her Majesty's Supreme of this Province: And whereas the said sum was paid to the University for the purpose of establishing the prize hereinafter mentioned: It is hereby provided:

1. That there shall be annual prizes, to be called "The Stow Prizes".
2. Each of such prizes shall consist of the sum of fifteen pounds, or (at the option of the prizeman) of books to be selected by him of the value of fifteen pounds ($30).
3. A Stow Prize may be awarded to any candidate for the LL.B. degree, who, at any November Examination, in the opinion of the Board of Examiners shall have shown exceptional merit in not less than two subjects.
4. Not more than four Stow Prizes may be awarded in any one year.
5. Every Bachelor of Laws, who shall during his course have obtained three Stow Prizes, shall receive a gold medal, and shall be styled Stow Scholar.

Statute allowed January 1899.

Amended: 12 Dec. 1907: 3.

The announcements shall (a) specify the vacancies to be filled at the election, the names of retiring members, and whether any retiring member is ineligible for re-election; (b) invite nominations for election to the vacancies; and (c) state that nomination forms may be obtained by any member of the relevant electorate on application to the Returning Officer at the University. There shall be at least two such announcements in the daily press in South Australia, each on a different day; the first such announcement being not less than sixty days before the appointed day of the election.

(4) Every candidate nominated shall be invited to supply to the Returning Officer in at most 150 words information about himself to be sent by the Returning Officer to the electors.
6. All nominations must reach the Returning Officer before noon on the fortieth day before the appointed day for the election.
7. A candidate duly nominated for any office may subsequently by letter to the Returning Officer request that his nomination be cancelled, and receipt by the Returning Officer of such letter shall be held to cancel such nomination.
8. If at any election no more than the required number of candidates be nominated, the Returning Officer shall declare the nominated candidates elected.
9. (2) The calculation and counting of the formal votes shall be performed by computer, using an adequately tested programme, which shall provide an appropriate print-out.

11. (1) Each candidate may appoint a scrutineer to assist the Returning Officer. A candidate may not himself be a scrutineer, or be present while the scrutineering is being carried out; and the scrutineering shall not be open to observers.

(2) If the number of scrutineers appointed by candidates is insufficient, the Returning Officer may appoint other persons to act as scrutineers.

12. At a convenient time the scrutineers appointed by the candidates shall be given the opportunity, in the presence of the Returning Officer, to satisfy themselves that the votes have been correctly recorded and correctly calculated. For this purpose they shall have available the voting papers and such computer print-out as they, after consultation with the Returning Officer, may consider necessary.

13. When the scrutineers, or such of them as attend, and the Returning Officer are satisfied that the votes have been correctly calculated and counted, the Returning Officer shall declare the result of the election. He shall do this:

System of Voting— Rules made by the Council under the authority of Clause 10 of Chapter LXXXV of the Statutes

A. VOTING SYSTEM

The system of voting in any election of members of the Council shall be the adapted Nanson-Baldwin system, as follows:

1. Every voting paper shall be in the form following or to the like effect that is to say:

"DIRECTIONS

*i. The voter shall indicate the order of his preference by writing whole numbers (1, 2, 3, ...) opposite the names of all or some or one of the candidates.

*ii. No number used shall be greater than the total number of candidates.

iii. A number opposite the name of a candidate shall indicate a preference for that candidate over each candidate opposite whose name a higher number or no number is written.

iv. Candidates against whose names the same number is marked shall be regarded as being equally preferred by the voter.

- v. All candidates against whose names no number is written shall have the lowest degree of preference.
- vi. An elector who spoils a voting paper may, on returning the spoilt paper to the Returning Officer, receive another voting paper.
- vii. Do not put opposite the name of any candidate a tick /, a cross x, a dash -, a zero 0, or any mark which is not a whole number.

Order of Voter's Preference	LIST OF CANDIDATES (Names to be inserted in alphabetical order of surnames)

Do not sign this Voting Paper."

2. (1) The voter shall indicate the order of his preference by writing whole numbers (1, 2, 3, ...) opposite the names of all or some or one of the candidates. A number opposite the name of a candidate shall indicate a preference for that candidate over each candidate opposite whose name a higher number or no number is written. Candidates against whose names the same number is marked shall be regarded as being equally preferred by the voter. All candidates against whose names no number is written shall have the lowest degree of preference.

(2) A vote shall be informal if:

- (a) a mark other than a whole number is shown opposite the name of the candidate; or
- (b) a number is used which exceeds the total number of candidates.

3. (1) The number of preferences for each candidate over each other candidate shall be ascertained in the manner hereinafter set out.

(2) Each ballot paper shall be allotted points in accordance with the formula $0 + 1 + 2 + \dots + (N-1)$, where N is the number of candidates. If, on a given ballot paper, no two candidates are grouped together as having the same merit, the candidate of last preference receives no points, the one of penultimate preference one point, and so on, so that the most preferred candidate receives (N-1) points. If, however, several candidates are grouped together, then the corresponding points are added, and distributed equally between them. For the purpose of this rule two or more candidates for whom no preference is shown shall be regarded as comprising the least preferred group and shall share equally the corresponding points.

(3) The candidate with the highest total number of points shall be elected. If two or more candidates tie for top place, and there are at least the same number of vacancies then both or all shall be elected. If the number so tying exceeds the number of vacancies the result shall be determined by lot.

(4) When one or more candidates has been elected and there remains a further vacancy to be filled all references to the successful candidate or candidates is notionally eliminated from every ballot paper and the process described in sub-paragraphs (2) and (3) hereof shall be repeated.

*In any election by the Convocation of Electors, i.e. one in which more than one group of candidates is involved, these two directions shall be replaced by the following:

- i. It is not necessary for a voter to vote in both groups A and B below. In each group in which he desires to cast an effective vote, the voter shall indicate the order of his preference by writing whole numbers (1, 2, 3,...) opposite the names of all or some or one of the candidates.
- ii. No number used in a group shall be greater than the total number of candidates in that group.

B. PROCEDURE FOR VOTING BY THE CONVOCATION OF ELECTORS

4. (1) All members of the convocation of electors are entitled to vote in an election of members of Council; provided that a member of the convocation who is registered as an undergraduate of the University and who votes in an election of members of Council in that capacity shall not in the same year be entitled to vote in the capacity of a member of the convocation of electors.

(2) When the number of candidates in any election or in any category of any election exceeds the number of places to be filled, the Returning Officer, at least ten days before the appointed day for the election, (a) may cause a voting paper and other information to be posted or otherwise sent to the last known address of every member of the Convocation of Electors whose address is held by the Returning Officer and (b) shall cause a voting paper and other information to be posted or otherwise sent to every person on the postal address list maintained for the purposes of elections of Council members, provided that, in the case of any elector who is registered as an internal full-time higher degree student of the University or any person who is an employee of the University or the Union, the Returning Officer may regard the relevant Department of the University or the Union as being the last known address.

(3) For the purposes of Clause 4(2) the voting paper and other information to be posted or sent may be incorporated in a University publication.

(4) Any member, who on the first day of the month in which the appointed day falls is entitled to vote and has not yet voted, may request a voting paper from the Returning Officer on or before the appointed day and the Returning Officer, if satisfied that the member has not yet voted, shall comply with the request.

5. (1) The Returning Officer shall cause a postal address list to be maintained. The postal address list shall contain the names and addresses of all members of the convocation of electors who have given written notifications of a wish to receive voting papers.

(2) The postal roll of the convocation of electors maintained according to Rules made under this Statute and in force immediately prior to the date these Rules take effect shall be the initial postal address list.

(3) For the purpose of keeping the postal address list up to date, each person who from time to time becomes a member of the convocation of electors by virtue of graduating, enrolling as a postgraduate student or joining the full-time staff of the University or the Union shall be invited to indicate whether his or her name should be placed on the postal address list.

(4) The postal address list shall be reviewed regularly to determine whether persons who have gained entitlement to membership of the convocation of electors by virtue of being a postgraduate student or a member of the full-time staff of the University or Union remain so entitled on the first day of the month in which the election occurs.

(5) The postal address list shall be revised in June of the fourth year after this rule comes into effect and every fourth year thereafter by verifying whether persons on the list wish to continue to receive voting papers and by ascertaining whether any eligible persons whose names are not on the list wish to be added to it. For the purpose of such revision (a) the Returning Officer shall invite each person whose name appears on the postal address list to indicate whether the name should remain on the list; and (b) the Returning Officer shall advertise in the daily Press of South Australia that a revision of the postal address list is being conducted. Such advertisement shall state that the name of any member of the convocation of electors will be entered on the postal address list on receipt of a written notification from the member to the Returning Officer of a wish to receive voting papers. The advertisement must state that the notification shall include appropriate information on the member's eligibility, including, in the case of a graduate member, the member's degree and year of graduation.

(6) The Returning Officer shall cause to be entered on the postal address list the name and address of any member of the convocation of electors who at any time gives written notification of a wish to be entered on or restored to it. The notification shall include appropriate information on the member's eligibility, including, in the case of a graduate member, the member's degree and year of graduation.

(7) The postal address list shall be available at all reasonable times for inspection by any member of the convocation of electors.

6. (1) A voter shall (a) place the voting paper inside the smaller envelope provided by the Returning Officer, seal the smaller envelope, place it inside the distinctive outer envelope provided by the Returning Officer, and seal the distinctive outer envelope; (b) give, on the back of the distinctive outer envelope, his or her name, address and signature; and (c) either place the envelope in a ballot box in the University grounds or post or deliver it to the Returning Officer at the University.

(2) No vote shall be counted unless the distinctive envelope containing it is placed in one of the ballot boxes provided for the purpose by the time specified in paragraph (3) of this Rule, or otherwise reaches the Returning Officer in his office in the University by 5.00 p.m., on the appointed day for the election.

(3) For the purpose of paragraph (2) of this Rule, the time specified shall be (i) In respect of a ballot box located close to the venue for a meeting of the University Senate to be held on the appointed day for the election: 8.00 p.m., or (ii) In respect of any other ballot box: 6.00 p.m.

PROCEDURE FOR VOTING BY UNDERGRADUATES

7. (1) All registered undergraduates of the University are entitled to vote in an election of members of Council to be elected by undergraduates; provided that a registered undergraduate who is a member of the convocation of electors and who votes in an election of members of Council in that capacity shall not in the same year be entitled to vote in the capacity of an undergraduate.

(2) Whenever an election of members of the Council by undergraduates is to be held, the Returning Officer shall, at least ten clear days before the appointed day for the election, send a voting paper and other information to each undergraduate whose name is included in the postal address list (undergraduate) on the first day of the month in which the appointed day falls.

(3) The voting paper and other information shall be posted or otherwise sent to the private address of each undergraduate as shown on the postal address list (undergraduate).

(4) Any registered undergraduate, who on the first day of the month in which the appointed day falls is entitled to vote and has not yet voted, may request a voting paper from the Returning Officer on or before the appointed day and the Returning Officer, if satisfied that the undergraduate has not yet voted, shall comply with the request.

8. (1) The Returning Officer shall cause a postal address list to be maintained. The postal address list shall contain the names and private addresses of all registered undergraduates of the University who have given written notification of a wish to receive voting papers.

(2) For the purpose of the election occurring in 1988, the postal address list (undergraduate) shall consist of all currently enrolled undergraduates.

(3) For the purpose of keeping the postal address list (undergraduate) up to date:

(a) the name and relevant particulars of each person who, since the last election, has enrolled as an undergraduate for the first time, or has re-enrolled as an undergraduate after an absence from the University of a year or more, shall be included on the postal address list (undergraduate) at least until the next election of Council members by undergraduates which requires a ballot.

(b) when an election of members of the Council by the undergraduates is held and a ballot is required, the casting of a vote (including an informal vote) by an undergraduate whose name is included on the postal address list (undergraduate) shall be deemed to indicate a wish on the voter's part that his or her name continue to be so included; and that name shall remain on the postal address list (undergraduate) accordingly at least until the next such election requiring a ballot.

(c) At any such election requiring a ballot an undergraduate whose name is included on the postal address list (undergraduate) and who does not return a vote shall, subject to (d) below, be deemed to have indicated a wish that his or her name not be retained in the postal address list (undergraduate); that name shall therefore be removed from the said address list.

(d) any undergraduate whose name is included in the said address list and who chooses not to vote in a particular ballot for the election of Council members by the undergraduates may, at the time of ballot, apply on a form provided for the purpose requesting that his or her name be retained in the said address list and the Registrar shall, on receipt of such applications, cause the applicant's name to remain on that address list at least until the next such election requiring a ballot.

(4) The postal address list (undergraduate) shall be reviewed annually to determine whether each person on it remains entitled to be so by virtue of being an undergraduate student on the first day of the month in which the election occurs.

(5) Any undergraduate, whose name has not been entered or retained on the postal address list (undergraduate), may at any time give written notification to the Returning Officer of a wish that his or her name be entered on the list. The written notification shall include the undergraduate's name, signature, student number and private address.

(6) The Returning Officer shall cause to be entered on the postal address list (undergraduate) the name and private address of any undergraduate who at any time gives written notification of a wish to be entered on or restored to it in accordance with these Rules. That name and address shall remain on the list at least until the next election of Council members by undergraduates which requires a ballot.

9. (1) A voter shall (a) place the voting paper inside the smaller envelope provided by the Returning Officer, seal the small envelope, place it inside the distinctive outer envelope; (b) give, on the back of the distinctive envelope, his or her name, private address, student number and signature; and (c) either place the envelope in a ballot box in the University grounds or post or deliver it to the Returning Officer at the University.

(2) No vote shall be counted unless the distinctive envelope containing it is placed in a ballot box before 6.00 p.m. or otherwise reaches the Returning Officer before 5.00 p.m. on the appointed day for the election.

D. PROCEDURE FOR PROCESSING THE VOTING PAPERS

10. At some convenient time after the voting has closed the Returning Officer assisted by the scrutineers will:

(a) examine the details on the back of each distinctive envelope and determine whether the voter is entitled to vote and has voted once only;

(b) open each distinctive envelope, and remove the inner envelope containing the voting paper;

(c) place and mix each inner envelope with other similar envelopes.

11. When all the distinctive envelopes have been opened and the inner envelopes mixed with other similar envelopes, the Returning Officer assisted by the scrutineers will:

(a) open the inner envelopes and remove the voting papers;

- (b) examine each voting paper to ensure that it represents a formal vote, and that each number is clear and unambiguous. (If, in any election in which there is more than one group of candidates, the voter's action in respect of any one group contravenes the instructions, the vote shall be regarded as informal in the election or group concerned but as formal in the groups in which it is correctly cast.);
- (c) number each formal voting paper in the space in the top left hand corner, using the automatic numbering machine that will be provided;
- (d) count the formal voting papers and the informal papers (if any), placing informal papers in a marked envelope;
- (e) arrange the formal voting papers in numerical order, and clip or tie them together;
- (f) deliver the formal voting papers to the Computing Centre, where each formal vote will be punched and verified.

12. The calculations and counting of the formal votes, and the procedures to be followed and the action to be taken by the scrutineers and the Returning Officer, will be in accordance with Chapter LXXXV of the Statutes.

13. The print-out of the recording and calculation of the votes shall not be a public document; but for any election the Returning Officer shall send to each candidate, for information, a summary of the total figures at each stage of the election. Such summary shall be available, on request, to any member of the electorate concerned.

Election of Members of Council by the Convocation of electors - Rules made by the Council under the authority of clause 15 of chapter LXXXV of the Statutes

ELECTION OF MEMBERS IN THE CATEGORY "PERSONS WHO ARE NOT ENGAGED IN THE EMPLOYMENT OF THE UNIVERSITY".

1. A candidate nominated in the category "Persons who are not engaged in the employment of the University" shall indicate on the nomination form the approximate period, if any, during which the candidate was formerly employed by the University on a full-time basis and the appropriate period, if any, during which the candidate was formerly employed by the University on a part-time (other than casual) basis.

2. At any election in which one or more such candidates have been nominated the Returning Officer shall include in information sent to voters the following - "ELECTION OF MEMBERS IN THE CATEGORY 'PERSONS WHO ARE NOT ENGAGED IN THE EMPLOYMENT OF THE UNIVERSITY'"

From time to time concerns have been expressed that election in this category of former members of the University's staff restricts access to Council membership for other persons from the community at large. This perception derives from an understanding that the prime intent of the University of Adelaide Act, 1971 in establishing this category was to ensure involvement in the University's affairs of people from the 'outside' community who would bring to it an increasingly needed range of expertise and would help to communicate the University's needs and aspirations back to that community. The Council has acknowledged that that is a valid perception but has recognised also that (a) the special knowledge and experience of former staff have their own value and (b) their status as former staff should not render them uniquely disqualified from eligibility for membership of the Council. It has directed, by Rule under the authority of Statute Chapter LXXXV - Of Election of Members of Council, that voters be informed of the past University employment, if any, of candidates in this category on the basis that the relative weights of the foregoing considerations are for each voter to decide.

The candidates concerned and the relevant particulars are:"

3. The foregoing shall be followed immediately by a list comprising the names of the candidates concerned and in each case an indication, to such level of detail as the Returning Officer shall deem appropriate, of the extent of their past service and whether it was on a full-time or a part-time basis.

The honorarium shall be determined from time to time by Council on the recommendation of the Selection Committee. Each lecturer shall be presented with a suitably inscribed memento.

(c) The Registrar may allow in individual cases an extension of time for payment of fees. A student who fails to pay the prescribed fees at the time prescribed by the Council or within such extended time as may have been allowed by the Registrar shall incur such additional fee as may be prescribed by the Council.

2. (a) Every student proceeding to a degree, diploma, or certificate of the University and such other students as the Council may from time to time decide shall, unless exempted therefrom by the Council, pay an entrance fee and an annual fee for membership of the Adelaide University Union.

(b) The Council shall from time to time prescribe the entrance fee and the annual fee. The entrance fee shall be the same for all classes of students, but the annual fee may differ for different classes of students as determined from time to time by the Council.

(c) The Council may determine whether the entrance fee may be paid by instalments over the first two years of the student's enrolment in the University and whether any individual student or any class of student may be exempted from payment of either the entrance fee or the annual fee or both.

(d) The entrance and annual fees prescribed from time to time by the Council and the conditions under which they may be paid shall be published in the University Calendar.

The Anti-Cancer Foundation of the Universities of South Australia

The Foundation has its origins in an Anti Cancer Campaign Committee, formed in 1928 on the initiative of the late Dr F.S. Hone, with the support of the Faculty of Medicine and the Council of the University of Adelaide. The objectives were to facilitate cancer research and to provide the most modern methods for the diagnosis and treatment of cancer in South Australia.

During its sixty eight years of existence the original Committee has undergone a process of growth and evolution changing its title and modifying its objectives on a number of occasions. The last significant change occurred on 1 January 1991 when The Anti-Cancer Foundation became a legal entity in its own right governed by the Australian Corporations Law. The two shareholders in this Company are the University of Adelaide and the Flinders University.

The organisation's headquarters are at 202 Greenhill Road, Eastwood. A wide range of services are provided by the 35 staff, assisted by numerous volunteers. The broad range of activities and services provided are set out in the Annual Report which can be obtained from the Anti-Cancer Foundation.

Since its inception The Anti-Cancer Foundation has sought to obtain funds from a number of different sources. Currently these include donations, public appeals, special fundraising projects and bequests. The income from major bequests are invested to ensure that a funding base allows The Anti-Cancer Foundation to continue its work in cancer prevention, education, cancer research and provide services to cancer patients and their families.

The Anti-Cancer Foundation is the major funding source to support cancer research within the State. Applications are invited each year for Anti-Cancer Foundation project grants to support research in laboratory or clinical sciences that are directly concerned with the understanding of cancer, its diagnosis, prevention and treatment. The Anti-Cancer Foundation supports cancer researchers through Fellows & Associates and also Distinguished Visitors, Travel Grants and Student Vacation Scholarships. Grants totalling in excess of $1.5M will be disbursed in 1996 to researchers in Institutions within South Australia.

The Anti-Cancer Foundation is pro-active in the prevention, early detection and diagnosis of cancer, as well as conducting regular public education campaigns. The Anti-Cancer Foundation offers a wide range of educational information and activities. These include skin cancer awareness, by promoting protective behavioural practices against the damaging effects of the sun's ultraviolet radiation (Slip, Slop , Slap and Wrap), in schools, workplaces and the community in general. The Quit smoking campaign is a joint initiative with the National Heart Foundation, which is funded by Foundation South Australia.

A number of Patient Care and Support Services are provided, such as the Breast Cancer Support Service. The Cancer Help Line is a comprehensive cancer information service which responds to enquiries about all aspects of cancer, including counselling and referral to appropriate services. In 1995 The Anti-Cancer Foundation purchased a motel (Greenhill Lodge), to provide affordable accommodation for country patients and carers who require specialist treatment for their cancer in Adelaide.

The Medical Foundation/The Florey Research Fund

The Medical Foundation was found in 1963. The Foundation's object is to assist the Council of the University and the Vice-Chancellor on matters associated with the promotion of education, research and study in medicine.

In October 1963 Sir Roland Jacobs, Sir Ewen Waterman, Sir Ivan Jose, Dr Helen May, Sir Ellerton Becker, T.W. Martin, J.R. McAuley, P.C.F. Hayward, Hector Brooks, A.N. Powell, D.M. Fowler, W.G. Gerard, K.D. Williams, L.A. McGregor, C. Verco, M.R. Lodge, R.A. Lee, A.P.M. McLachlan and A.W. Crompton met and discussed the apparent lack of postgraduate medical education, particularly for country practitioners and resolved to do something to correct this situation. They established the Postgraduate Medical Foundation. To become a Governor, member of subscriber, a subscription or donation was necessary and thus began the task of raising sufficient capital to enable the Foundation to meet its constitutional obligations. These are summarised through this Mission Statement:

1. To support postgraduate medical education in South Australia.
2. To receive and administer donations and disburse grants in pursuit of its objects.
3. To enhance the performance of The Adelaide Medical School particularly in research and also in teaching, patient care and community service.

An early approach to the Wolfson Foundation was successful in securing an ongoing source of funds and the Foundation further derived income from the L.K. Symons Bequest to the University. A drive in 1983/4 to secure more members was quite successful in increasing the capital base.

In 1989 the Board adopted a new policy and direction for the Foundation by committing itself to a significant development programme which is intended to substantially benefit the Faculty of Medicine at The University of Adelaide. The Foundation was renamed The Medical Foundation of The University of Adelaide and The Florey Research Fund was established to fulfil the third part of the Mission Statement. The Fund is named to honour 1921 graduate Howard Florey, later to become Lord Florey, Baron of Adelaide and Marston, whose lifetime of achievements and honours serves as a wonderful source of inspiration to students and researchers at The Adelaide Medical School. Florey was awarded the 1945 Nobel Prize in Medicine for his work in developing penicillin to clinical use, thus ushering in the era of antibiotics that nowadays save millions of lives each year. The Florey Research Fund is now working actively to build a donor support base and welcomes donations of all sizes for medical research programmes. Named bequests and/or donations are also keenly sought and provide the opportunity for the names of individuals, families, etc., to be maintained in perpetuity for specific or general medical research funds.

Institutions & Foundations

The Foundation's role currently includes administration of a number of other funds: the M.S. McLeod Visiting Professorship Endowment Fund, The Burnell Jose visiting Professorship Fund, The Mark Jolly Memorial Travelling Scholarship Fund, The RAH Endocrine Research Fund, The Pank Ophthalmic Trust, The Hillcrest Hospital Research Fund, The Loma Laffer director of SAPMEA Trust Fund, The Modbury Hospital Medical Staff Society Research Fund and The Committee for the Establishment of a chair in Anaesthetics and Intensive Care. these are in addition to The General Fund developed earlier, as noted above, The Membership Fund (from the 1983/4 appeal), The L.K. Symon Fund and The Florey Research Fund itself.

The Board of Governors of The Foundation includes the Chancellor, Deputy Chancellors, Dean of the Faculty of Medicine and another nominee of the Dean, nominees of SAPMEA and elected members. Current President is Dr Robert Bauze who also chairs the Committee of Management which is responsible for the day to day operations of The Foundation.

All enquiries and donations should be addressed to the Executive Manager of The Florey Research Fund, Mr Frank O'Donnell at the office situated within the Medical School, The University of Adelaide, Australia 5005. Telephone is 303 5211 and facsimile is 223 2076. The Medical Foundation is licensed No. 765 under The Collections for Charitable Purposes Act and all donations are tax deductible.

The University of Adelaide Foundation

The University of Adelaide takes justifiable pride in the excellence of its graduates. Excellence refers not only to high academic and professional achievement, but also to the general intellectual and cultural opportunities offered within the University.

The University of Adelaide Foundation was established in 1980 to support, promote and enrich this general intellectual and cultural life and thereby the excellence of its graduates. A major objective of the Foundation is to ensure that the University's private moneys can be directed towards specific projects designed to maintain and develop the University's distinctive character.

This character is under threat with the current method and level of Government funding, which is related closely to supporting regular academic activities. Government does not allow for support in many areas which should provide the rich cultural texture of education in a true university.

The Foundation aims to attract more direct support from benefactors so that the University can continue to offer more than just academic curricula to its students. A University should exemplify the best in our culture rather than reflect the norm, and it follows that those who learn in our University should themselves have experienced the best available education. The Foundation's role is to promote this basic cultural aim.

One avenue the Foundation uses to attain this goal is to seek out and fund proposals of an innovatory kind, proposals likely to be of general appeal and interest to the University and proposals likely to promote greater intellectual and cultural diversity within the University Community.

In order to achieve this the Foundation needs the financial support of staff, students, graduates and the community.

Activities supported by the Foundation

The range of activities the Foundation supports, or plans to support includes:

Writers, artists, producers and musicians-in-residence.

Lectures by outstanding public figures and leading scholars from within and beyond Australia.

Facilities for university activities having a significant impact on the community as in theatre, musical performance and radio.

Activities encouraging community links with ethnic communities in an increasingly multi-cultural Australian society.

Supplementation of Union initiative for the provision and extension of student services.

Establishment and extension of collections of works notably by contemporary artists.

Co-operative schemes including where appropriate scholarship awards designed to strengthen academic links with overseas universities.

Gifts will be received for the general purposes of the Foundation or the support of specific projects. The Board of Governors would be pleased to discuss specific projects suggested by potential donors. If you wish to discuss a specific project with the Foundation you should contact the Foundation Secretary.

Gifts should be made payable to The University of Adelaide Foundation.

The structure and purposes of the Foundation will be reviewed in 1996 as part of the establishment of a University Development Office.

Tax Deductibility

Donations to The University of Adelaide Foundation qualify for income tax deductions.

RESIDENTIAL COLLEGES

By the Acts of Parliament under which the University of Adelaide was founded provision was made for affiliation to the University of residential colleges in which students could enjoy the advantages of residence, discipline, and tuition supplementary to that given by the staff of the University.

St. Mark's College

St. Mark's College, the first residential college in the University of Adelaide, was founded by a committee formed at a public meeting held under the chairmanship of the Bishop of Adelaide on 29 May, 1922. The Committee obtained some $24,000 by public subscription, bought the residence of the late Sir John Downer on Pennington Terrace, North Adelaide, and secured two acres of land adjoining. The College was affiliated in 1924, and opened for students in March, 1925. It was immediately found necessary to provide additional accommodation, and in 1925-6 and in 1926-7 a three-storey building of thirty rooms was erected as the first portion of a main quadrangle on the vacant land. During the years 1941 to 1945 the property was leased to the Royal Australian Air Force. Since then the College has acquired additional properties and buildings and now provides residence for about 200 graduates and undergraduates with facilities which include large Junior and Senior Common Rooms, computer facility on line to the University, drafting room, Chapel, Library, Tutorial Rooms, Recreation and Music Rooms, and five grass tennis courts.

The College is governed by a Council including representatives of the Anglican Church of Australia, the Council of the University, St. Peter's College, and the Old Collegians. The Archbishop of Adelaide is ex officio President and the Chairman is the Hon. Justice R.G. Matheson. Although the College is under the auspices of the Anglican Church, it is freely open to students of all religious denominations. In 1981 the College Council decided to admit women students to residence from the beginning of 1982.

The College provides its members with the advantages of corporate life in close proximity to the University, the University sports facilities, and the other Colleges of the University. Students have all their meals at the College. Since its foundation the College has built up a fine all-round record in academic and other fields, with many winners of major prizes and scholarships, including thirty Rhodes Scholarships.

Members of the Senior Common Room are graduates, including members of the University's academic staff, who serve as academic and personal tutors.

The Student's Club plays a substantial role in the running of the College and fosters social, dramatic and sporting activities. Religious services are provided for College members.

St. Mark's offers up to twenty-five scholarships and bursaries annually for resident students. The scholarships are awarded primarily on academic merit, the bursaries on financial need. Full details are available from the Administrator.

Applicants should be matriculated in the University and must furnish evidence of good character. No member of the College may be permitted to remain in residence unless the Master is satisfied with his/her academic progress and conduct.

Further particulars are available from:

The Master-Mr C.R. Ashwin, M.A.(Oxf.); St. Mark's College Inc., 46 Pennington Terrace, North Adelaide, 5006; Telephone 267 2211.

St. Ann's College

St. Ann's College was founded following bequests by the late Mr Sidney Wilcox of his house and garden at Brougham Place, North Adelaide, and a substantial sum of money to establish a non-denominational College for women students attending the University. The College was incorporated and affiliated with the University in 1939 and opened for students in 1947. In September 1972 the College Council agreed to admit men students to residence in 1973.

The College provides residence for 155 students in single study-bedrooms. In addition, the College has a spacious dining hall and common rooms, tutorial rooms, music rooms, a library, computer room, design room, photography studio, weights room and tennis court. St. Ann's provides university students with the opportunity to live in a community of graduates and undergraduates in which academic excellence is emphasized, and which allows for many extra-curricular activities. Security and fire safety installations are exemplary, and a telephone is provided in every student room. There are eight residential tutors who provide academic and social leadership, and pastoral care. Academic tutors provide one-to-one academic help in forty-five subject areas.

The College is situated in beautiful surroundings with a view of the Mount Lofty Ranges. It is within ten minutes' walk of the University of Adelaide.

St. Ann's provides undergraduate scholarships and bursaries for resident students. The Doris Simpson Scholarship (value $1,800 p.a. at present) is awarded to a continuing student and is based primarily on academic results. The Constance Finlayson Scholarship (value $1,800 p.a. at present) awarded to a first-year student is based primarily on the results of the Matriculation Examination, but character and extra-mural interests are also taken into account. Tenure may be renewed for a second year. The Phyllis Crompton Scholarship (value $1,800 at present) is awarded on academic achievement and leadership qualities to a student already in the College and intending to be resident in the year of the award. The Collegians' Awards, valued at approximately $400 each, are awarded annually, for one year only, to first-year students of ability and in financial need. Other awards and bursaries are also awarded annually. Applications should be sent to the Principal of the College not later than 20 January.

Further details and application forms can be supplied by the Principal, Dr Rosemary Brooks, St. Ann's College Inc., 187 Brougham Place, North Adelaide, 5006; Telephone 267 1478. Fax (08) 267 1903.

Aquinas College

Aquinas College was incorporated in 1946 and by a statute of the University in 1947 was affiliated to the University as a Residential College under the auspices of the Roman Catholic Church for students of the University. In 1948, "Montefiore", just behind Colonel Light's Statue in North Adelaide, was purchased as a site for the College. This house was, for many years, the residence of the late Sir Samuel James Way, Chief Justice of South Australia for 40 years, and for 33 years Chancellor of the University. In 1953, Sir Collier Cudmore's home, 24 Palmer Place, was purchased and in 1968 the property belonging to the Darling family, 19 Palmer Place. In 1992, the College purchased the Cathcart property at 102 Palmer Place.

The College now has accommodation for 150 students in single study-bedrooms. Besides the full catered kitchen and dining room, the College has spacious common rooms, a Chapel, libraries, music room, television rooms, two squash courts, an all-purpose tennis court and a computer room.

Since the beginning of 1974, the College has had both male and female students.

Students of the College enjoy the advantages of residence close to the University, corporate life in an academic community, the influence of the doctrine, ideals and sacramental life of the Church, and a considerable informal tuition system which supplements the lectures at the University.

Lincoln College

Lincoln College is a co-educational residential College affiliated with the University of Adelaide since 1951. Originally the College was opened for male students but, by a decision of the College Council, women have been admitted as residents since 1973 and now comprise approximately half of the resident students.

The College was founded by the South Australian Conference of the Methodist Church. With the inauguration of the Uniting Church in Australia in 1977 Lincoln College came under the auspices of that body. Admission is not restricted to members of the Uniting Church, but is open to students of all faiths.

The College consists of three modern buildings and four heritage residences providing 250 single bedroom studies. The College offers residential facilities, including three meals a day, seven days a week, for students undertaking tertiary studies in Adelaide with priority being given to students in the University of Adelaide.

The College seeks to create a helpful academic environment. Tutors are available within the College to assist students with their academic work. Continued residence in the College depends on satisfactory academic progress and general conduct.

Students are represented in the management and participate in the general running of the College. The College Club, run by the students, is largely responsible for the extra-curricular activities. A diverse program of cultural, social and sporting activities is arranged.

The College is governed by a Council comprised of representatives of the Church, the University and members and graduates of the College. The Chairperson of the Council is Mrs Helen Berriman. The Principal is Peter Aneas Gunn, B.A., Ph.D.(Monash).

To commemorate the distinguished service of the late Reverend Dr Frank Hambly as its Foundation Master, the College has established two Frank Hambly Memorial Scholarships, the value of which are set by the Council from time to time. Roseworthy College

Roseworthy College was established as a University residential College following the merger of Roseworthy Agricultural College and The University of Adelaide in 1991. It was created from the residential component of Roseworthy Agricultural College, an institution that had accommodated tertiary students continuously for 108 years. With the distinction of being the only College at Roseworthy Campus, Roseworthy College is located in an idyllic rural setting on the fringe of the Barossa Valley about ten minutes from Gawler and less than a one hour drive north of Adelaide.

Roseworthy College continues to provide Roseworthy students with appropriate standard, affordable accommodation and offers a range of residential options. A total of 300 students are accommodated in fully furnished, single rooms, 200 in Residential Halls and 100 in self-contained, five bedroom houses and three bedroom units. The College also rents furnished and unfurnished houses to both staff members and students with families.

Roseworthy College residents enjoy convenient access to a range of facilities and services including an excellent reference and general library, a modern computer centre, a chapel, various sporting clubs with floodlit facilities (including a 25 metre swimming/diving pool), a well equipped gymnasium, a full size billiard table, two coin-operated laundromats, a canteen and shop with an electronic banking terminal and a licensed tavern. Located in close proximity to the Residential Halls is a medical centre with a full-time nurse and a visiting Doctor. A free transport service operates on weekdays, weekends and public holidays and links Roseworthy Campus with Gawler and with trains to and from Adelaide.

The College also aims to stimulate the educational, social and cultural development of its residents and to create an environment that is conducive to the pursuit of academic excellence. Pastoral care is a significant responsibility of the Principal and some aspects of this work are currently delegated to two College Seniors and six Senior Residents. Residential tutors are appointed to provide First Year students with academic support in key subjects.

The governing body of the College is a nine member Board of Directors. These Directors include an elected residential student, the College Principal and the Dean of the Faculty of Agricultural and Natural Resource Sciences. The other six Directors are appointed from the local community, from within the University and from among old Collegians.

Residents are encouraged to be actively involved in the management of the College. A Residents Group provides residents with a forum to discuss residential issues and initiatives and to make recommendations to management and the Board. Regular open meetings are organised by six independently appointed core members. The Principal enjoys a close working relationship with this group and regularly attends their meetings.

A substantial number of scholarships, grants and bursaries are available and these make it possible for many academically sound students to continue their education at Roseworthy. The College is deeply indebted to the Cowan family for the support provided to Roseworthy College residents through the Cowan Trust.

Continuing Education

The University has been involved in adult and continuing education since 1914. A more detailed description of that work is found in the Calendar for 1983 and earlier years. From 1983 to 1987, a number of changes to the activities and management of Continuing Education took place. Those changes are recorded in the Calendar for 1986-87.

The University's principal continuing education activities are currently organised through the Office of Continuing Education, although programmes are also arranged separately some profession based faculties.

The Office of Continuing Education is located (organisationally) within the Academic Services Division of the Deputy Vice-Chancellor (Academic) Office, and (geographically) at 10 Pulteney Street, 2nd Floor, Adelaide. Its charter is:

- (a) to encourage and develop the provision of continuing education for graduates and professional groups;
- (b) to provide public seminars and conferences on matters of social and political concern to the community;
- (c) to encourage and co-ordinate the provision of opportunities for the public to attend intra-mural lectures and seminars;
- (d) to provide foreign language classes for the public at a level appropriate to the University; and

SERVICE DEPARTMENTS AND DIVISIONS OF THE UNIVERSITY

The Advisory Centre for University Education

The Advisory Centre for University Education (ACUE) exists primarily to assist in the development of excellence in teaching and learning within The University of Adelaide. The ACUE is an academic centre in the University and was established in 1973.

In 1990 the University Council agreed to expand and restructure the ACUE. Its aim became:

(a) to develop, manage and implement the University's activities in: academic staff development, academic evaluation, institutional research and language and learning support.

(b) to conduct academic research in each of these areas.

Academic services provided include advice and assistance with course design, language and learning, teaching methods, assessment, and course evaluation. A variety of short courses, seminars and workshops are offered throughout the year. These include an introductory program in university teaching and seminars on issues in academic management. The Centre produces books and monographs which are addressed to specific aspects of university teaching. The Centre also participates in research projects with academic staff, and has provided consultancy services to tertiary institutions in Australia, New Zealand, Papua-New Guinea, India, Thailand, Malaysia, Singapore and Indonesia.

The Director of the ACUE is responsible to the Deputy Vice-Chancellor (Academic) for the administration of the Centre. The Director is advised by a Committee for the ACUE which draws its members from all faculties and from the student body. This Committee is a sub-committee of Academic Board.

In recent years the ACUE has been successful in influencing changes in the University's policies and practices with respect to teaching. Some examples include: the introduction policies and practices designed to enhance the quality of teaching and learning; the introduction and development of approaches to the evaluation of teaching (the SET: 'Student Evaluation of Teaching' system); changes to promotion policies which now require clear evidence of excellence in teaching in addressing stricter criteria relating to teaching performance; and the introduction of a comprehensive program for both staff and students in the broad area of language and learning support; the development of a support program for post-graduate students.

In addition, the staff of the ACUE have been working with all faculties on innovations in teaching practices ranging in scale from, for example, individual assistance with lectures and small group teaching, to the introduction of new teaching methods, the development of schemes for student assessment, curriculum review and approaches to independent learning.

Further information about the ACUE is available from the Director. The ACUE is located on level 6 of the Hughes Building. The telephone number is (08) 303 5771.

The role of the University Library is to provide staff and students with the materials and information required to meet their needs for research, teaching and learning.

Services provided include lending, reference, interlibrary loans, electronic databases and education in library and information use. The Library makes extensive use of automation, and its catalogue and a number of electronic databases are accessible from terminals and microcomputers in departments throughout the University, as well as inside the Library.

At the end of 1994 the Barr Smith Library contained ca 1,478,000 volumes and approximately 1,400 seats: the Law Library located in the Ligertwood Building, ca 109,000 volumes and 256 seats; Performing Arts Library located in the Hartley Building, ca 99,000 items and ca 100 seats; the Roseworthy Campus Library, ca 41,000 volumes and 205 seats; and the Waite Library at Glen Osmond, 66,000 volumes and 125 seats. The Information Technology Division

The Division was established in July 1990 by combining University wide information technology services previously provided by the University Computing Services Branch, Information Systems Branch (administrative computing), Buildings Branch (voice communications) and ACUE (education technology).

The new Division replaced the University Computing Services Branch of the Registry which had been formed in November 1985 following an extensive review of computing within the University and a determination that computing resource management should be decentralised and local management groups formed. University Computing Services replaced the Computing Centre which was established as a separate department in 1969, although computing facilities had been available since the early 1960's.

The role of the Division is to provide services and support for computing (academic and administrative), communications (voice, data and video), educational technology (including audio/visual, graphics/typesetting, video) and printing activities associated with research, teaching and administration on all campuses. Note that computing support to teaching and research in specific academic disciplines is usually provided by local management groups.

Prospective users are invited to contact the Information Technology Division or their local management group, except that students should in general seek advice from the relevant teaching department. Education in computing is the concern of the Department of Computer Science and other departments, although the Information Technology Division does offer staff training courses in microcomputing, use of the university network and administrative systems.

For more information call 303 5584 or Level 1, Plaza Building for the Information Technology Division User Guide. Support for technical problems should be directed to the Information Technology Division Help Desk 303 3000.

The Language Laboratory

The Language Laboratory is part of the Faculty of Arts. It was established in 1965 to provide audio-lingual and audio-visual practice facilities for foreign language students. Since its installation the equipment has been expanded and updated. The latest update took place in 1990 with the introduction of computers as a further tool to language learning. During the day it is used by University students enrolled for courses in the departments of Chinese, French, Modern Greek, German, Japanese, Vietnamese, Italian and Spanish. They either meet as a class under the direction of a staff member, or engage in private practice during free access periods.

From 6.00pm - 10.00pm the cassette laboratory is used by Office of Continuing Education students studying Chinese, French, German, Indonesian, Italian, Japanese, Modern Greek, Russian, Spanish and Vietnamese. Student numbers have increased recently. The Office also offers intensive courses during vacation times in French, German, Italian, Japanese, Chinese, Spanish and Vietnamese.

Over the years a large tape library comprising tapes, cassettes and videos has been built up, partly through gifts from various foreign embassies, mainly those of the Federal Republic of Germany and France. It includes recordings of literary works and cultural background materials. A comprehensive catalogue is kept. Audio and video materials are available to staff members for use in classes and tutorials, and to students for use within the laboratory's facilities. For most tapes scripts are available. High speed tape duplicating facilities have resulted in a home borrowing scheme both for language and literary materials. The Language Laboratory also has a well equipped recording studio where production of supplementary language materials are made, and is available for hire. A full range of audio-visual equipment (video, slides, overhead projection) has been installed in one tutorial room that can accommodate up to 12 students. This room is also hired out to interested groups e.g. holding conferences. Individual video-viewing for staff and students is also available. The Laboratory also has a comprehensive selection of slides which can be borrowed by staff for lectures and tutorials. Catalogues giving details of slides, cassettes and videos are available for inspection in the office.

Staff members are reminded that the Language Laboratory has a number of language courses at various levels of difficulty, which can be borrowed. Some of these would be suitable for reviving forgotten language skills, others offer a linguistic 'survival kit' for beginners. No charge is made, but a refundable deposit is required. All Language Laboratory rooms and its facilities are available for hire to interested parties.

To this objective, classes are conducted in a wide variety of activities i.e. fitness classes, weight training, aerobics, fitness circuits, tennis, ethnic dance, gymnastics, badminton, squash etc., and a physiotherapy service is also available. Training of elite sports persons and rehabilitative programmes are also conducted at the Centre.

In addition, the Centre provides excellent facilities for a wide range of physical activities. A large sports hall, gymnasium, seminar room, human performance laboratory, weight training room, circuit room, squash courts, combats area, boxing room and change rooms make up the complex. A 2.2 km jogging track with lights circumnavigates the park lands in front of the Centre. Intramural sporting competitions are conducted, primarily for the social player. The Centre also hires racquets, towels and sells drinks, health foods and sporting goods.

The University Health Service

In 1946 the Health Service was established in response to an outbreak of pulmonary tuberculosis amongst medical students, thus becoming the first Australian University to initiate a Health Service. Following this, there was a period during which students in their first full-time year were required to attend the Health Service for a medical examination, chest X-ray and Mantoux Test. This requirement has now ceased, but students are actively encouraged to attend the Health Service for their health care and health education needs. The medical staff in the Health Service have developed the particular skills required to provide for the needs of the student population, including those from country areas and from overseas. Both male and female doctors are available for consultation.

The Health Service provides a wide range of services, including contraception advice, sexual health advice, acute casualty care, immunisation advice, sports medicine advice and preventive medicine/lifestyle advice. The Health Service continues to provide emergency first-aid care to students, staff and visitors at the University.

The Health service is located on the ground floor of the Horace Lamb Building, and is open from 9am to 5pm each weekday. Consultation is by appointment, and the Secretary in the Health Service can be contacted on 303 5050. A student health nurse/occupational health nurse is available, at both Roseworthy Campus (303 7884) and Waite Campus (303 7498).

Scholarships & Prizes

Medicine

9. The stipend for each scholarship will be determined on selection of a scholarship-holder. It will be fixed at either the current rate for scholarships offered by the National Health and Medical Research Council for Medical and Dental Postgraduate Scholarships ($21,528 in 1994) or the current priority rate for Australian Postgraduate Awards ($18,866 in 1994). The latter rate will generally apply to successful applicants other than graduates in Dentistry and Medicine. At the time of nomination of candidates to hold a scholarship, the Faculty of Medicine Research Committee will make a recommendation as to the level of stipend which it considers should apply in each instance.

10. Each scholarship will provide a maintenance allowance to assist the scholarship-holder to meet the expenses of the research project. The value of the maintenance allowance will be $4,000 for each year of study. There will be a maximum of two such allowances for a Masters student and three for students for the degrees of Doctor of Medicine or Doctor of Philosophy. Recommendations for any increase of the annual amount for maintenance will be made by the Faculty of Medicine Research Committee to the Board of Graduate Studies.

11. Scholarship-holders may apply to the Scholarships Officer for additional funding to assist in the payment of expenses incurred in overseas travel to undertake research which is essential to the higher degree being undertaken. Each such application will be considered on its merits and with consideration of the funds available. Interstate travel and all travel to attend conferences is excluded from this provision but support may be supported from the maintenance allowance, subject to supervisor's approval.

12. All other benefits and conditions of the scholarships including that of satisfactory progress are to be as specified for Australian Postgraduate Awards and University of Adelaide Scholarships, as administered within this University.

13. Tenure of a scholarship will confer no obligation other than that of full time research on the holder. A scholarship-holder will be supervised to the same extent and in the same way as other postgraduate students. It is intended that under these circumstances the scholarships will not be taxable.

14. The expenses of essential external advertisement of the scholarships are to be met from the Fund.

15. Any income from the Medical Research Scholarships Fund which remains unspent at the end of each year after financial obligations have been met will be capitalised in order to increase future income for scholarships.

16. Changes of rules and rates of allowances may be approved by the Board of Graduate Studies from time to time, where applicable in accordance with changes to the indexed rates payable under the relevant National Health and Medical Research Council and Australian Postgraduate Awards. Changes in the general purpose of the Fund may only be varied by Council.

PRIZES AND SCHOLARSHIPS TENABLE IN DIFFERENT FACULTIES

UNDERGRADUATE

Scholarships for Undergraduate Students - General

The major source of support for students up to postgraduate level, (Masters or Doctor of Philosophy) is AUSTUDY. This is administered by the Department of Employment, Education and Training (DEET). In South Australia the AUSTUDY Office is in Wyatt House, 115 Grenfell Street, ADELAIDE, Tel: 224 6433 or FREECALL: 008 112 338 for country callers. In the event that undergraduate students are ineligible for AUSTUDY or are assessed to receive less than a full allowance the University is unable to provide alternative financial support.

Undergraduate students who consider proceeding to a course of postgraduate study or research at a later stage should contact the Scholarships Officer, preferably no later than the second or third year of their undergraduate course, for details of scholarships which may be available to postgraduate students. An information statement is available. The major postgraduate scholarships and awards are available in limited numbers in competition on the basis of academic merit and research potential. POSTGRADUATE SCHOLARSHIPS AND AWARDS

A. TENABLE WITHIN THE UNIVERSITY

The Adelaide University Graduates' Union/R.C. Heddle Awards

In May 1987, the Adelaide University Graduates' Union was amalgamated with The University of Adelaide Alumni Association. A condition of the amalgamation was the continuation of the Adelaide University Graduates' Union/R.C. Heddle Award and the responsibility for the administration of the Award was assumed by the Alumni Association. The Award is available to assist students enrolled in Doctoral programs at The University of Adelaide.

A total of $1,200 is available each year. The number of awards and the value of each award will be determined by the Selection Committee in the light of applications received. There is no restriction on the fields of study of applicants and limits are not specified as to the use of the Awards: each application will be considered on its individual merits. However, it is expected that the Awards will be made to assist the student to undertake some aspect of his/her studies for which finance is not readily available.

Application forms are available from the Executive Secretary of the Alumni Association, The University of Adelaide. (tel. 303 5800.) The closing date for applications is 30 September.

Australian Postgraduate Awards with Stipend

Formerly known as Commonwealth Postgraduate Research Awards, these awards are now administered by higher education institutions around Australia using funds provided by the Australian Research Council. Awards may be given for research in any area.

In order to be eligible for an award an applicant must be an Australian citizen or have permanent residence status and have lived in Australia continuously for at least 12 months prior to application. Applicants must have qualified for an Honours degree at First Class level. Students with a qualification which is assessed as equivalent to First Class Honours may also qualify for an award.

A student may lodge an application at more than one institution but an award offered at one institution may not be transferred to another. Commencement of study may not be deferred beyond 31 March in the proposed year of study except in special circumstances where the starting date may be as late as 30th June. Selection is on a competitive basis and follows an order of merit list compiled by each institution which takes into account academic results, referees reports and research potential.

Tenure of an award normally begins from the date of commencement of higher degree candidature and is a maximum of 2 years for a Masters degree and 3 years for a PhD degree, subject to satisfactory progress and renewal at the end of each calendar year. Under special circumstances an award for PhD research may be extended to a maximum of 3 1/2 years.

Benefits include a stipend which is tax-exempt ($15,364 in 1996), Relocation Allowance (where a student moves to take up higher degree candidature), a Thesis Allowance and exemption from the Higher Education Contribution. Award holders are required to pay the annual Student Union Fee.

The closing date for applications for these awards is 31 October.

Australian Postgraduate Awards (Industry)

A substantial number of additional APA awards are made available nationally each year to universities which make successful proposals for research and training programs at postgraduate level which are supported jointly by the universities themselves and financially by an industrial partner. Benefits to the successful student applicant are as for Australian Postgraduate Awards at the priority rate ($19,827 in 1996) with additional funding for research maintenance, essential travel by the research student and other expenses being provided by the industrial partner to an annual level of not less than $5,000 in cash plus $5,000 in cash or kind (1994 rates).

Applications for the approval of these awards are invited initially from prospective supervisors or other members of academic staff in collaboration with interested industrial partners. Further information is available from the Scholarships Officer. The closing date for applications is 31 July of the year preceding the year in which the award would be taken up.

All the above awards are normally available to full time postgraduate research students. A limited number of awards may be available to students who, for compelling social reasons, have no alternative but to study part-time.

Australian Postgraduate Awards Without Stipend (APAWS)

Formerly known as HECS Exemption Scholarships, the sole benefit under these Awards is exemption from the Higher Education Contribution.

No separate scholarship application form is required. Exemption from HECS is available (1996) to holders of Australian Postgraduate Awards With Stipend, University of Adelaide Scholarships and other postgraduate scholarships and to students who are undertaking postgraduate research degrees by full-time study (ie 76% to 100% research in a research degree). Maximum duration of exemption under an APAWS is two years for a Masters degree and up to four years for Doctor of Philosophy.

Slightly different conditions may apply to continuing students.

Conditions and procedures for allocation of APAWS will be reviewed for 1995.

The Baillieu Research Scholarships

3. Each scholarship shall be tenable for one year in the first instance, but may be renewed for a second year and, in exceptional cases, for a third year, but not longer.
4. Any graduate of the University who is enrolled within the University as a full time higher degree research candidate in medicine, law, commerce, economics or architecture shall be eligible to apply.
5. Where a fully qualified student is the lineal descendant of an Australian soldier or sailor who died or was blinded or was totally and permanently incapacitated as a result of his service in World War I, preference shall be given to that candidate.
In determining whether an applicant shall be given preference under this clause, the Board shall be guided by the provisions of the Repatriation Fund (Baillieu Gift) Act 1937.
6. Every application for an award, including, in the case of a scholarship holder, any application for renewal, must be made through the Head of the candidate's department, and should reach the Scholarships Officer by 31 March. It should include full details of the proposed research and of the arrangements made or to be made for carrying it out. The procedures for assessment of progress for continuing students are to be as practised for Australian Postgraduate Awards and University of Adelaide Scholarships, as administered within this University.
7. All awards shall be made by the Board of Graduate Studies.
8. If in any year a scholarship is not awarded, such scholarship may be awarded as an additional scholarship in any subsequent year.

The Medical Research Scholarships Fund

1. Three postgraduate scholarships will be created for research in Medical Science or a science closely allied to medicine. (the scholarships will be tenable in the Faculty of Medicine and other faculties).
2. In commemoration of substantial contributors to medical research funds, the scholarships will be named:
 - The Reginald Walker Medical Research Scholarship,
 - The Alfred and Ferrers Scammell Medical Research Scholarships,

4. In order to be eligible, applicants must be Australian Citizens or have Permanent Resident Status in Australia at the time of the nominated closing date for applications.
5. Selection will be undertaken by the Faculty of Medicine Research Committee. Its nominations will be forwarded to the Board of Graduate Studies for approval.
6. Selection will be undertaken on the basis of the academic merit and research potential of the applicants, with consideration also being given by the selection committee to the nature and possible value of the research being proposed. The selection committee may choose not to offer one or more scholarships or may request that any scholarship(s) be re-advertised if it is not satisfied with the standard of application.
7. the scholarships will be administered by the Scholarships Officer.
8. No more than three scholarships will be tenable at any time. Further scholarships may only then be offered when a vacancy occurs through termination of a previously awarded scholarship.

Postgraduate Scholarships & Awards

9. The stipend for each scholarship will be determined on selection of a scholarship-holder. It will be fixed at either the current rate for scholarships offered by the National Health and Medical Research Council for Medical and Dental Postgraduate Scholarships ($22,250 in 1995) or the current priority rate for Australian Postgraduate Awards ($19,307 in 1995). The latter rate will generally apply to successful applicants other than graduates in Dentistry and Medicine. At the time of nomination of candidates to hold a scholarship, the Faculty of Medicine Research Committee will make a recommendation as to the level of stipend which it considers should apply in each instance.

10. Each scholarship will provide a maintenance allowance to assist the scholarship-holder to meet the expenses of the research project. The value of the maintenance allowance will be $4,000 for each year of study. There will be a maximum of two such allowances for a Masters student and three for students for the degrees of Doctor of Medicine or Doctor of Philosophy. Recommendations for any increase of the annual amount for maintenance will be made by the Faculty of Medicine Research Committee to the Board of Graduate Studies.

11. Scholarship-holders may apply to the Scholarships Officer for additional funding to assist in the payment of expenses incurred in overseas travel to undertake research which is essential to the higher degree being undertaken. Each such applicant will be considered on its merits and with consideration of the funds available. Interstate travel and all travel to attend conferences is excluded from this provision but support may be supported from the maintenance allowance, subject to supervisor's approval.

12. All other benefits and conditions of the scholarships including that of satisfactory progress are to be as specified for Australian Postgraduate Awards and University of Adelaide Scholarships, as administered within this University.

13. Tenure of a scholarship will confer no obligation other than that of full time research on the holder. A scholarship-holder will be supervised to the same extent and in the same way as other postgraduate students. It is intended that under these circumstances the scholarships will not be taxable.

14. The expenses of essential external advertisement of the scholarships are to be met from the Fund.

15. Any income from the Medical Research Scholarships Fund which remains unspent at the end of each year after financial obligations have been met will be capitalised in order to increase future income for scholarships.

16. Changes of rules and rates of allowances may be approved by the Board of Graduate Studies from time to time, where applicable in accordance with changes to the indexed rates payable under the relevant National Health and Medical Research Council and Australian Postgraduate Awards. Changes in the general purpose of the Fund may only be varied by the Council.

The George Murray Scholarships

Enabled to do so by the bequests (amounting to about $280,000) of the late Sir George Murray, K.C.M.G., Chancellor of the University from 1916 to 1942, and of his sister, the late Miss Margaret Tinline Murray, the Council has established a number of scholarships and made the following rules relating to them:

1. The scholarships shall be known as the "George Murray Scholarships".

2. The purpose of the scholarships is to enable graduates of the University of Adelaide to undertake further study or research in approved universities or other institutions outside of Australia.

3. Until otherwise determined by the Board of Graduate Studies the number of scholarships available for award in each year shall be determined by the available income but should generally comprise one award in each category. There shall not be more than two new Category A awards in any one year.

4. a) There shall be two categories of awards, the minimum qualifications for award in each category being as follows:

CATEGORY A

A candidate who holds the degree of PhD or who expects to submit a thesis for the degree of PhD by 31 December in the year prior to that for which the award is sought shall be eligible to apply in this category. Any offer made shall be subject to satisfactory completion and award of the degree of PhD.

CATEGORY B

To be eligible to apply a candidate must hold either (a) an Honours degree, or other qualifications judged by the University to be equivalent, in Arts, Economics, Science, Agricultural Science, Engineering, Law, Medical Science, Music, Architecture or Applied Science; or (b) the degrees of M.B.,B.S., followed by at least one year of hospital practice or research; the Honours degree of B.D.S., or the degree of B.D.S. followed by at least one year's postgraduate study or (c) a Master's degree.

5. The normal period of tenure of a Category A Award shall be one year only, and the award will not be renewed for a second year except in very exceptional circumstances. The normal period of tenure for a Category B award shall be three years, with the possibility of a six month extension in exceptional circumstances, to enable the scholar to complete a course of study which has been approved.

6. a) Until the Board of Graduate Studies decides otherwise, and subject to Clause 6 (b) below, the value of a scholarship will be:

CATEGORY A

The stipend of the postdoctoral award shall be the equivalent of the appropriate step of the salary scale applying to postdoctoral fellows at the University of Adelaide. No other allowances will be payable.

CATEGORY B

For awards tenable at a university in the United Kingdom the stipend shall be 95% of the living allowance of a UK award under the Commonwealth Scholarships and Fellowship Plan. In addition, a Category B award will, where applicable, carry the appropriate dependants' allowances provided by a UK award and the cost of approved compulsory university fees.

For awards tenable at Universities other than those in the United Kingdom, the value of the living allowance shall normally be determined by the Board of Graduate Studies at an amount equivalent to an award tenable in the United Kingdom. However, the Board of Graduate Studies may take into account any special circumstances prevailing in particular cases where a slightly higher stipend may be justified (Such circumstances may include variations in exchange rates or costs of living). The Board of Graduate Studies may then base the stipend on 95% of the stipend of similar awards tenable in the country concerned.

When a scholarship is to be held at a university other than in the United Kingdom the value of the scholarship shall be expressed in the local currency and it shall not, during the period of tenure, fall below the value contained in the letter of offer. The value of scholarships held outside the United Kingdom shall be reviewed annually by the Head of Scholarships when applications for extensions into a second and third year of tenure are under consideration.

b) A scholar who obtains any other award (whether it be a scholarship, fellowship, salary, living allowance, or other emolument) shall at once inform the Registrar, Scholarships. The candidate will normally be required to retain such other award; and the Board of Graduate Studies, after considering all the circumstances, will decide what adjustment shall be made in the annual value of the George Murray Scholarship.

A scholar may hold, concurrently with a George Murray Scholarship, any grant for travel purposes only.

c) One quarter of the annual value of the scholarship will be paid to the scholar before departure from Australia. Thereafter, for the period of tenure of the scholarship, payments will be made in equal quarterly instalments in advance.

d) Approved university fees in the case of Category B awards will normally be paid, on receipt by the Head of Scholarships, of an appropriate account, direct to the overseas university concerned.

e) Application for extension of tenure of a scholarship for a second year in Category A, or for the second and third years in Category B, must be made in writing to the Registrar, Scholarships, before payment of the final quarterly instalment under the original award is due to be made. The application shall include a progress report and a statement of the grounds on which the extension is sought, together with a recommendation from the candidate's supervisor or Head of Department. Payment of a Category B award for the second year and third year will be contingent upon receipt by the Registrar, Scholarships of a satisfactory progress report from the candidate's supervisor or from the Head of the Department in which the candidate is studying.

f) The attention of candidates is drawn to the George Murray Overseas Travel Grants, the rules for which are published in the University Calendar.

7. a) Applications must be lodged with the Registrar, Scholarships not later than 31 October in the year preceding that for which the award is sought.

b) Every candidate should consult the Head of the Department concerned in advance and should state in the application the proposed field of study and specify the university or other institution in which the candidate desires to work.

c) Confirmation of the award of a George Murray Scholarship will be dependent upon the scholar's giving evidence that he or she has been accepted by the university or other institution concerned and that they are able to make suitable arrangements to proceed there.

8. Awards will be made by the Board of Graduate Studies which will base its assessment of applicants on their academic achievements.

The George Murray Overseas Travel Grants

1. The Council may award each year a number of Overseas Travel Grants for the purpose of facilitating overseas postgraduate study or research by graduates of the University of Adelaide. The number of such grants that may be made in any one year shall be determined in the light of money available from the income of the George Murray Bequest after provision has been made for the George Murray Scholarships tenable during part of the whole of that year; but a grant shall not be made unless the applicant be deemed of sufficient merit and in need of assistance toward travel.

2. An applicant for a Travel Grant must have been accepted for further study or research in a university or other institution outside the Commonwealth of Australia; and the proposed course of study or research and the university or other institution in which it is to be undertaken shall, for the purpose of these grants, be subject to approval by the Council. Applicants are required to provide evidence, acceptable to the University, that they have adequate finance to support the duration of their proposed course of study.

3. Applications for grants shall be made to the Scholarships Officer on the prescribed form not later than 14 May in any year.
4. The value of a grant shall be determined in each case by the Board of Graduate Studies, which shall take into consideration the financial and other circumstances of the applicant; but until otherwise determined by the Board of Graduate Studies the value of a grant for travel from Australia to another country shall not exceed $1,000, payment being made before the recipient's departure from Australia.
5. The Board of Graduate Studies will base its assessment of applicants primarily on their academic achievements, but that, in the event of candidates being regarded as equal, preference will be given to the candidate who is proceeding to study overseas for the first time.
6. A grant holder may apply for a similar grant for the return journey to Australia. Any such application will be considered in the light of finance available from the George Murray Bequest, and to be eligible for consideration the candidate shall:
 - a) apply to the Scholarships Officer not later than 28 February of the calendar year in which the candidate intends to return;
 - b) have completed tenure of the scholarship and have spent not more than four academic years abroad; and
 - c) not have received any other award or appointment which provides for passage to Australia.

The Australian-American Educational Foundation Travel Grants (Fulbright)

A number of prestigious awards in different categories, (including Postgraduate Student, Postdoctoral Fellow, Senior and Professional) are available annually to students, scholars and practitioners in various fields for studies or visits for specified professional, research or study purposes to the United States of America.

All candidates must be Australian citizens by birth or naturalisation and must agree to return to Australia for residence for a minimum of two years on completion of the award.

General preference is given to applications involving work in the applicant's discipline as it specifically applies to the bilateral relationship between Australia and the United States or involves comparative studies between these two countries. Applications are encouraged in the fields of International Trade and Investment, Visual and Performing Arts, Environmental Policy and American Studies. Merit is the primary consideration and an Honours degree with First Class Honours or equivalent would normally be a pre-requisite for selection for a Postgraduate Award.

All Senior and Professional applicants are required to apply directly to the Programs Officer of the AAEF in Canberra. [GPO Box 1559, CANBERRA ACT 2601: Tel: (06) 247 9331].

Enquiries and applications for the Postgraduate Student and Postdoctoral Fellow categories should be directed to the Registrar, Scholarships as the Honorary Secretary of the Selection Committee for South Australia.

The Adelaide University Union

The Union exists to foster a shared sense of identity amongst members within the broader sphere of the University. To achieve this the Union provides extra-curricular services to its membership such as catering, welfare, physical facilities, entertainment, art and craft, clubs, sports and representation. Besides these facilities the Union also owns the bookshop, known as Unibooks Pty. Ltd. which is the state's foremost seller of academic texts.

All students enrolled at The University of Adelaide are automatic members of the Union. All members are entitled to use all of the facilities provided and participate in the democratic processes of the Union. The Union is governed by a Board of eighteen students directly elected by and from students at the annual elections and one staff member.

There are seven groups affiliated to the Union that, through annual grants from the Board, serve the student population, independently of the Board. These are the Students' Association, Postgraduate Students' Association, Overseas Students' Association, Roseworthy Student Union, Waite Institute Students' Association, Clubs Association and Sports Association.

The Union Complex, on the North Terrace Campus, contains three refectories, the Equinox, Bar, meeting and function rooms, lockers for hire, the Little Theatre, Cinema, Craft Studio, State Bank, Computer Resource Centre, Art Gallery/Coffee Shop, affiliated groups and clubs' offices and a Women's Room. There are also a number of campus businesses such as a pharmacy, Student Travel Australia, and a record shop. There are two other coffee shops, the Backstage in the Schulz Building and the Catacombs in the basement of Union Hall and vending machines are located throughout the University.

Students in need of advice and assistance can see either of the two Education and Welfare Officers on matters such as housing, AUSTUDY, loans, legal matters, finance, health and government benefits. They are happy to advocate on your behalf to the University, Department of Education, Employment and Training (DEET) or the Department of Social Security (DSS). Students in need of direct financial assistance can apply to the Equal Access Scheme for book vouchers and Union Fee payments.

The Adelaide University Postgraduate Students' Association (PGSA)

The Association was established in 1965, and granted official recognition by the University Council in 1969. It is one of the major representative associations affiliated to, and funded through, the Adelaide University Union. Its objectives are to represent and promote the interests of postgraduates in the University. Postgraduates are represented on the University Council, Academic Board, Vice-Chancellor's Advisory Committee, Board of Graduate Studies, Student Affairs Committee, and most other University committees. The PGSA is also an active member of the Council of Australian Postgraduate Associations (CAPA), playing a major role in the formation of national postgraduate policy.

The PGSA is run by an elected Council, which includes the PGSA Executive consisting of the President, Vice-President, Treasurer, Secretary and Women's Officer. The Association also employs a Research Officer/Organiser, whose role is to facilitate the functioning of the PGSA, to co-ordinate campaigns, to advise on and implement policy, and to advocate on behalf of postgraduates.

Ordinary membership of the Association includes all PhD, Masters, graduate diploma, graduate certificate and honours students, as well as postdoctoral fellows. A postgraduate representative can be found in each faculty and department, contact the PGSA to find out who they are. The Association's offices are located on level 4 of the George Murray Building (above the Students' Association), next to Uni-Books. The PGSA can be contacted on: Phone: 35898/3114, Fax 303 3507: E-Mail: postgrad@wattle.itd.adelaide.edu.au.

Its objects include the furtherance of the interests of amateur sport, physical recreational activities, the care and management of the University Oval and other playing fields, and the control of the constituent clubs. Participation in Inter Varsity sport and the Australian University Games is actively encouraged. The Association awards Blues to outstanding sportsmen and sportswomen annually and in 1993 introduced five sports scholarships each worth $1,000 for students with outstanding ability at their chosen sports. These are competed for annually and comprise the 'Don Stranks' Sports Scholarship, one each for football and cricket, and three others known as the 'Bob Heddle' Sports Scholarships which are not sport specific. The scholarships were so named to reflect the interest and support given by Don Stranks and Bob Heddle to University sport during their time at the University of Adelaide.

The management of the Association is vested in a Sports Council, consisting of a President, Deputy-President, Honorary Treasurer and Honorary Secretary, one representative appointed by the Council of the University, one representative appointed by the Graduates' Association, a representative of the Residential Colleges Sports Committee, a representative of the Centre for Physical Health, the honorary secretary of each amalgamated club, the Registrar of the University and the Secretary of the University Union ex officio. The Sports Association Offices are situated in the Lady Symon Building on the ground floor, and provides a secretarial service for all clubs, information on sport and recreation at the University. The office is staffed by a permanent Executive Officer and a Secretary Mondays to Fridays 9.00 a.m. to 5.00 p.m..

All undergraduates of the University of Adelaide are members of the Association and associate membership is open to academic and ancillary staff of the University and Union, and University graduates on payment of Sports Association membership fee. Part-time students who have paid at least half of the University statutory fee are also recognised as members of the Association.

Associate membership is also available, on payment of the prescribed fee, to the husband or wife, and children, of full members.

Membership of the Association entitles the member to take part in the activities of any or all of the Associations' constituent clubs. The Association thus provides ample facilities for participating in an important aspect of student life.

The Sports and Clubs Office is located on Level Two, Lady Symon Building. Telephone (08) 303 5403 Facsimile (08) 232 1300.

The Clubs Association

The Clubs Association (CA) was formed in 1971 and is a federation of the non-sporting clubs, societies and associations based on campus.

Currently over one hundred groups are members of the CA. Affiliated with the AU Union, the CA receives over 90% of its funds from the Union Board.

A CA Executive is elected each year. The Executive decides on the approval of grants to member clubs. Grants are made to help club's activities, publications, travel cost for conference representatives, capital costs of equipment and general administration.

The CA office and staff provide basic help for member clubs and answer enquiries. It acts as a contact point for clubs, receives mail and helps in the production of documents and publications.

The Students' Association of the University of Adelaide

The Students' Association of The University of Adelaide (S.A.U.A.) is an affiliate group of the Adelaide University Union and consists entirely of students who are automatically given membership upon enrolling at the University. The Student Representative Council, established in 1946, was the forerunner of the Students' Association which came into existence in 1971.

The S.A.U.A.'s prime representative role relates to the University, local, State, and Federal Government, as well as the wider community, and ensures that student welfare and rights are promoted and protected. It is a member of the National Union of Students. The Students' Association provides a number of services other than representation, including employment and accommodation services and a range of social functions and events during the year, such as the Orientation activities.

The S.A.U.A. holds its Annual Elections concurrently with the Union. S.A.U.A. office bearers, members of S.A.U.A. Council, and those on standing committees, are elected. This year's President is Kym Taylor, who is the spokesperson for University of Adelaide students. The office bearers are the Education Vice-President, the Activities Vice-President, the Women's Officer and the Environment Officer. The SAUA also runs a student newspaper, On Dit, and Student Radio.

The S.A.U.A. office also has four full-time staff and is situated on the ground floor of the George Murray Building in the northeastern corner of the Union Cloisters. For enquiries telephone (03) 303 5383 or (08) 303 5406.

The University Sports Grounds

The Adelaide City Corporation leases a total area of about 18 hectares of park lands to the University for use as recreation grounds by the University Sports Association. All the area so leased is in constant use by the various clubs of the Association.

In addition a further 8 hectares has been leased from the Department of Transport at West Beach at which the hockey centre is located.

A boathouse and a pavilion were erected in 1910. Mr. Barr Smith gave $1,500 for the erection of the boathouse, which in 1963 was extended and modernised by the University Sports Association at a cost of approximately $16,000 and 12 donors (R. Barr Smith, T.E. Barr Smith, F.J. Fisher, Chas. Goode, John Gordon, R.T. Melrose, C.H. Angas, A.J. Murray, Sir George Murray, S.S. Ralli, T. Scarfe, Sir Ernest Shackelton, C.V.O., and the Right Hon. Sir Samuel Way, Bart.) gave $200 each towards the erection of the pavilion. Many members of the University and other friends also subscribed to the fund for general purposes.

A footbridge across the River Torrens provided in 1937 by the Misses Lily and Eva Waite, gives direct access from the University to the recreation grounds.

During 1965 the University pavilion was modernised and extended at a cost of approximately $4,000 and in 1966 a new pavilion was erected on the Graduates Oval at a cost of $14,000. In 1970, the University gymnasium was extended to include four squash courts and ancillary facilities at a cost of $40,000. The courts were opened for play on 1 December, 1970.

The Sports Association also controls, with the Director of the Waite Agricultural Research Institute, a recreation reserve of 6 hectares at Waite Park, Glen Osmond, which caters for rugby, cricket and archery.

Outside the city the Association owns a river-fronted site at Morgan which is used by the Water Ski Club, and an area of land is leased at Lochiel which has been developed as an airfield by the Sailplane Gliding Club.
