

16th August, 1955.

My dear Luca,

The little book by Gamow was not much use. I hope one that I am sending herewith may be better. It is not about atoms, and has some queerly idiomatic English, but I fancy that if Albuaria took an interest in it Matteo would soon get the idea.

The travel agents tell me that my air passage can be paid for in Milan in accordance with my booking in Cambridge or London. This should be quite a convenience, and I will let you know the date as soon as I hear from Boldrini.

Sincerely yours,

Enc.
