Dear Darlington,

Here is a short note on the 'Sewall-Wright Effect' consequent upon this recent long article in Evolution. Mayr will not permit its publication in that journal! I am sure that this note as it now stands, is sufficiently inoffensive and I should like to think that it leaves a sufficiently clear impression.

I have at last got the bibliography straight as some of the dates, volumes and page-numbers had been interchanged, as so often happens when the exact title is not given.

Yours sincerely,
