Dear Dr O'Brien,

Thanks for your letter. I ought perhaps to have let you know that I am sailing for the States on June 10th, and will not be in this country again until early November. In the meanwhile, of course, I hope you will see Dr Taylor and discuss the possibilities now opening up.

If you care to put me in touch, I should be pleased to see any of your colleagues of the New York office, if this will be in any way helpful. I shall be located at Cambridge, Mass., from the end of August till about September 18th, attending the Harvard Tercentenary Conference and Celebrations.

Yours sincerely,
