The University of Adelaide Calendar Volume IV

This booklet is intended to provide an introduction to The University of Adelaide. More detailed information relating to any of the material in this booklet may be obtained by contacting relevant staff or by consulting other volumes of the University Calendar.

The Guide is divided into four main sections: a profile of the University; a directory of services and supports for students; the rules and procedures; and the timetables. Information is in alphabetical order within these four main sections.

Course timetables are provided for each Faculty, with the exception of the Faculties of Dentistry, Law and Medicine. Students enrolled with these Faculties should obtain information on timetables directly from the Faculty Office. Please note that students enrolled for first year subjects taught by Departments in the Faculties of Dentistry, Engineering, Mathematical and Computer Sciences, Medicine or Science or for any subjects taught by the Department of Commerce will be allocated the times of their lectures, practicals and tutorials. Details of these allocations will be displayed on notice boards in the individual Departments before Orientation Week.

Foreword

We welcome you to the University and will do our best to ensure that your time as a student is both pleasant and rewarding.

The University is a large and diverse community, covering nearly all the main areas of scholarship and professional study.

For undergraduates, a wide range of options is available within our generalist degrees and diplomas, providing the diversity essential for the greater knowledge and employability of our graduates.

The University's professional degrees are nationally accredited and have undergone major curriculum change in the last few years.

Our graduate student population is increasing steadily in both coursework and research areas. The University has a high national profile in research and is proud to number Nobel Prize winners among its members.

While learning is a life-long process, the undergraduate years are a crucial component. Full and active participation in all aspects of University life will ensure that you derive the maximum enjoyment and benefit from these crucial years.

Good wishes

*Ian R Falconer

Section I: The University of Adelaide

The University

The University of Adelaide is a large University with over 13,000 students enrolled in courses offered through eleven Faculties: Agricultural and Natural Resource Sciences, Architecture and Urban Design, Arts, Dentistry, Economics and Commerce, Engineering, Law, Mathematical and Computer Sciences, Medicine, Performing Arts and Science. This breadth of academic areas ensures considerable choice in courses and subjects.

The University gives a high priority to the quality of its teaching. Courses encompass the latest developments in knowledge and understanding while providing a sound basis for subsequent employment, professional training and postgraduate study. In addition the University has an excellent international reputation for the quality of its research, which in turn reinforces the up to date nature of its teaching programs. Many undergraduate students pursue further studies in coursework and research at the postgraduate level. The individual welfare of students is a major institutional priority of the University and is supported by a network of staff and services which are outlined in this Guide.

The Campuses

The University of Adelaide has four campuses within the city, the metropolitan area and the nearby countryside. Several research stations and experimental facilities are within an hour's drive of the city.

North Terrace

The main campus of the University, where most research facilities and Departments are located, is on North Terrace, Adelaide, between the cultural, intellectual and commercial heart of the inner city and the parklands surrounding it. The North Terrace Campus neighbours the Museum, the Art Gallery, the State Library, the Festival Centre, the Botanic Gardens and The University of South Australia.

Roseworthy

The Roseworthy Campus of 1,260 hectares is situated on the northern Adelaide plains, fifty kilometres from the City, in a wheat and sheep area typical of southern Australia. As a part of the Faculty of Agricultural and Natural Resource Sciences, the Campus also contains a farm, stables, a plant nursery, an arboretum, an aquatic reserve, an ephemeral swamp and a fauna park.

Thebarton

The Thebarton Campus is located on the River Torrens approximately four kilometres from the North Terrace Campus. The site is being developed as a Commerce and Research Precinct, housing commercial and industrial enterprises and University research activities involving postgraduate students. The Precinct provides an opportunity for an important interface between The University of Adelaide and Australian business and industry.

Waite

The Waite Campus is situated at Glen Osmond, eight kilometres southeast of the city centre, where part of the Bachelor of Agricultural Science and postgraduate agriculture courses are taught. The Waite occupies an outstanding position in agricultural research, in Australia and overseas.

Section I: The University of Adelaide

The Council and Senate

The governing body of the University is the Council, which, under Section 9 of the University Act, 'shall have the entire management and superintendence of the affairs' of the University subject to the Act and the Statutes and Regulations of the University.

The Council comprises thirty-five members including the Chancellor and Vice-Chancellor, ex officio; eight members of the academic staff, two general staff, one postgraduate student and thirteen persons not employed by the University. Of these, twenty-four are elected by the Convocation of Electors (comprising all graduates and postgraduate students of the University and all full-time staff); four members elected by the undergraduates; and five Members of Parliament elected by the Parliament of South Australia.

Under a new system of governance effective since 1992, the Council operates through a Senior Management Group comprising the Vice-Chancellor, the Deputy Vice-Chancellor (Academic), the Deputy Vice-Chancellor (Research) and the Registrar, with the advice of various committees and the support of the University's administrative officers. The four principal committees of the Council are the Academic Board, the Student Affairs Committee, the Finance Committee and the Personnel Matters Committee.

All statutes, regulations and amendments to them must be approved by the Senate, which meets each year in November, and by the Governor, before they can become effective. The Senate consists of all graduates of the University, all full-time employees of the University (who are graduates of other universities recognised by the University) and all postgraduate students.

Committees, Faculties and Boards

The Student Affairs Committee offers advice to University Council on matters of significance affecting students. It is convened jointly by the Deputy Vice-Chancellor (Academic) and a student, and about half its members are students. Students who wish to have matters raised in this committee can do so by contacting any of the student members through the Students' Association or the Postgraduate Students' Association. The Academic Board advises the Senior Management Group or Council on academic and educational policies and broad issues of concern. It has about 80 members including all Deans of Faculties and Heads of Departments, as well as elected undergraduate students and two elected postgraduate students. Information about meeting times and membership of these committees can be obtained from the University's Central Secretariat (telephone (08) 303 5871). Of more immediate impact from the students' point of view however, are the eleven Faculty Boards and the Board of Graduate Studies, which effectively control the degree and diploma courses. Subject to the authority of (or delegated to its officers by) the Council, the Faculty Boards and the Board of Graduate Studies are responsible for the structure, scope and content of University courses. As their names imply, the Finance Committee is concerned with the financial aspects of University government and the Personnel Matters Committee with the relationships between the University as an employer and its staff.

Section I: The University of Adelaide

Statutes, Regulations, Rules and By-laws

For every degree and diploma course Regulations are made which establish that course. Changes in these Regulations require the approval of the University Council, the Senate, and the Governor of South Australia in Executive Council.

Details, such as subjects available and the structure of the course, are set out in the Specific Course Rules made by the Council. The Specific Course Rules appear in The University Calendar, Volume II immediately after the Regulations; they are followed by the Syllabuses for each of the subjects concerned. The Statutes, which are published in The University Calendar, Volume I govern matters other than degree or diploma courses. They require approval in the same manner as the Regulations. The University's By-laws, for contravention of which penalties are laid down, govern such matters as trespass, parking and traffic, disorderly behaviour. They also are published in The University Calendar, Volume I. Rules, made by the Council, govern the use of the library, laboratories, lecture rooms and the conduct of examinations, etc. and are in the General Course Rules in the University Calendar, Volume II, 1995

The Vice-Chancellor, Deputy Vice-Chancellors and Registrar

The Vice-Chancellor, Professor Gavin Brown, is the chief executive officer of the University and is supported by two full-time Deputy Vice-Chancellors and the Registrar. These four officers comprise the Council's Senior Management Group responsible for policy development and its implementation in all aspects of the University's operation.

The Registrar is directly responsible to the Vice-Chancellor for human, physical and financial resources, for ensuring the quality of administrative services and for internal and external relations. The Registrar is also the University's Public Officer. Other administrative functions the responsibility of the Deputy Vice-Chancellors: student admissions, access and services, enrolments, student records, commemorations, continuing education, aboriginal programs, the ACUE, examinations and international programs being the responsibility of the Deputy Vice-Chancellor (Academic); and graduate studies, scholarships and research being the responsibility of the Deputy Vice-Chancellor (Research).

Disabilities: support for students with disabilities

The University is committed to meeting the special needs of students with disabilities (whether temporary or permanent) and of students in special circumstances. Special arrangements are made wherever possible to assist them in their studies or with their examinations. Some ramps for wheel-chairs are provided and parking places are reserved for students without full mobility. The library also has a variety of aids for students with visual disabilities. Students with disabilities intending to enrol at The University of Adelaide should contact the Disabilities Liaison Officer, Tony Frangos, who is located on the ground level in the Horace Lamb Building, telephone (08) 303 5220, to discuss their needs.

Disabilities can take many forms, including paraplegia, quadriplegia, arthritis, visual and hearing impairment and progressive conditions such as multiple sclerosis. There are also 'invisible' disabilities which include conditions such as dyslexia, epilepsy, asthma, emphysema, chemical allergies/intolerances, diabetes, haemophilia and colour blindness. Increasing numbers of students are also enrolling in University courses in order to re-train after contracting RSI (also known as RFS: Reverse Fatigue Syndrome).

The Disabilities Liaison Officer will discuss with you what your needs might be throughout the year: for example, special furniture, changed lecture-rooms, assistance in taking lecture notes, or special arrangements for exams.

On the enrolment form, there is an optional question regarding disability which students are encouraged to answer, as statistics on the range of disabilities and the number of students affected by them will help University staff to anticipate and provide for support networks, services and special facilities.

For further information on services, support networks and negotiating adjustments to assessment methods, refer to the University's information booklet, Handbook for Students with Disabilities, which is available from the Equal Opportunity Office, the Students' Association, the Education and Welfare Officers, the Health and Counselling Services, and the Student Administration Branch.

Higher Education Contribution Scheme (HECS)

Under HECS, students who enrol in Higher education award courses, that is, any degree, diploma, associate diploma, graduate certificate, graduate diploma, advanced certificate or certificate courses, are required by the Commonwealth Government to pay a part (about one-fifth) of the cost of their courses.

The HECS charge is incurred on a semester basis, and is determined by the workload for which you are enrolled on the Census Dates: 31 March for semester 1 and 31 August for semester 2. A student studying full-time for 1995 will be liable for a HECS charge of $2,409 ($1,204.50 per semester). For students studying part-time, or undertaking an overload, the amount is worked out on a pro-rata basis.

You can pay HECS in two ways. If you choose the 'pay now', or up-front option, you pay the institution at the time of enrolment and receive a discount. (In 1995, the discount is expected to be 25%). Please note that the discount applies only to payments made before 24 February for semester 1 or 21 July for semester 2. If you choose the 'deferred payment' option, you pay HECS through your tax in the future. The HECS booklet issued by the Australian Taxation Office explains how the deferred payment option works.

HECS affects each student differently depending on the payment option, course load etc. Students are strongly advised to refer to the HECS booklet. Copies of the booklet are available from the Enrolment Centre, the Student Records Office and the Students' Association Office. There will also be a HECS help desk at the Enrolment Centre staffed by the Australian Taxation Office. After the enrolment period, contact the Student Records Office for advice and information on HECS.

Insurance

The Union subscribes to an Accident Insurance Scheme administered on the Union's behalf by the Executive Officer of the Sports Association from whom details are available. Broadly, the Scheme covers all members of the Union (Undergraduate, Postgraduate) and Sports Association for medical and dental costs as a result of an accident incurred as a direct result of participation in activities organised by those bodies, as well as those organised by the University. The Scheme is not permitted to meet the gap between basic Medicare rebates and actual fees paid, however, all other costs are covered. Loss of earning is also covered. Members must meet the first $20 of claimable expenses.

When a member has an accident likely to result in lodgement of a claim, a notification of accident form must be lodged within seven days of occurrence with the Sports Association Office. Claims are normally lodged after the completion of treatment, payment of accounts and receipt of health insurance rebates. Claim forms are available from the Sports Association Office and Sports Club Secretaries.

You are welcome to contact the Head, Student Administration, Don Longo, or the Branch Secretary, Anita Gayen, on (08) 303 5164, Level 5, Wills, for any general query you may have about the Branch and its services.

Admissions Office

Information and advice on a variety of matters concerning admission to the University can be obtained from the Admissions Officer. This includes entry requirements, overseas qualifications, time-lines for applications, University policies and procedures regarding entry and many other issues of concern to students considering enrolling in a University course for the first time.

The Admissions Officer is Peter Stewart, who is located on Level 4, Wills Building (telephone (08) 303 5208).

Careers Service

Careers advice can be obtained from the Careers Advisers who assist students needing help, advice or information in such areas as employment opportunities, job seeking, writing applications and preparing resumes, interview skills and further studies. A library of resource material is maintained for student use.

The Careers Advisers are David Lamb and Joanne Pimlott, located on Level 4, Wills Building (telephone (08) 303 5906).

Course Advice (prospective students)

Students who are applying for University courses and need advice on the options available to them can contact the Enrolment Coordinator, who assists students who would like to discuss the range of courses available and whether the courses meet their interests and aspirations. Both prospective students seeking entry to the University and students who have enrolled but are still uncertain about their choice of course are welcome to consult the Enrolment Coordinator. (note: For advice and signatures relating to specific courses and for amendments to enrolment, please consult your Faculty Course Adviser(s)).

The Enrolment Coordinator is Lynn Larsen in Student Administration. She is located on Level 4, Wills Building (telephone (08) 303 5123).

Examinations and Commemorations Office

The Student Administration Branch organises and coordinates the University's examination sessions and commemoration ceremonies. For information on examinations and supplementary examinations, refer to Section III of this booklet under 'Examinations'. For details of graduation ceremonies for students intending to complete their courses in the current year, including procedures for application, refer to the heading 'Graduation/Commemoration ceremonies' in Section II.

Higher Education Contribution Scheme (HECS)

The Student Administration Branch is responsible for administering HECS on behalf of the University and for providing data on students' enrolment to the Australian Taxation Office.

You can obtain published information about how HECS works from the Student Records Office, Level 5, Wills Building. Please note, however, that the Student Records Office maintains the details of students' HECS liability only for the current year. For further information about your HECS liability, contact the Australian Taxation Office.

Section II: supports and services

Publications for students

Various publications are produced by the Branch (in collaboration with Faculties and other administrative units of the University) which provide information about courses, services and careers to students. They can be consulted on Level 4, Wills Building. The Calendar Volume II: Handbook of Courses can be purchased at Unibooks.

School and Community Liaison Office

The Branch provides ongoing information and advice to schools and community groups about courses available to prospective students and procedures for application. The University's pre-enrolment talks, Preliminary Classes and Information (Open) Day are coordinated through this office.

Further information can be obtained from Graham Brookman, Level 4, Wills Building (telephone (08) 303 5208).

Student Records Office

The Student Records Office is situated on Level 5 of the Wills Building. Entry can be made either by the door on the Western Drive (next to the Art Gallery), by the door facing east towards the top of the waterfall in the Wills court, or by lift from the Hughes Plaza.

The University maintains a record of information associated with each student's course of study. The record is confined to academic matters and includes such details as enrolments, examination results, status, prizes and awards.

Academic Transcripts

All students, past or present, of the University may apply at any time for a statement of their academic record. Information about the Academic Transcripts and the fees applicable may be obtained on request from the Student Records Office.

All information supplied by a student for University purposes and all details of a student's academic record are regarded as confidential. Accordingly, Academic Transcripts are issued only on request, in writing, by the student concerned, or with his/her consent. The academic record and the student correspondence file may, on request and under supervision of the Head, Student Administration Branch, be inspected by the student concerned.

Change of Address/Telephone Number

Students who change their semester or permanent home address (or telephone number) should immediately notify the Student Records Office in writing. You can call in person at the Student Records Office, Level 5, of the Wills Building, and complete a 'Change of Personal Details' form. This will ensure that you receive all future notices, refund of Union Fees (if applicable), notification of results, etc without delay.

Change of Name

A student's name is initially recorded as the name given by the student on first enrolling. That name may not be changed unless students provide documentary evidence of their legal name. If you wish to change your name with the University, lodge a 'Change of Personal details' form with the Student Records Office, accompanied by the appropriate documentary evidence (eg birth certificate, marriage certificate, passport etc). Please note that the Student Records Office must sight either the original documentation or certified copies.

Student Exchange Programs

The University has exchange agreements with a number of overseas institutions providing students with the opportunity to undertake part of their degree in another country. Agreements currently exist with the University of California, Washington State University, College of William and Mary and Indiana University in the United States; several Universities in Japan, including Meiji University in Tokyo; Chungnam University in Korea; and Shandong University in the People's Republic of China. There are also a number of agreements with overseas institutions specific to particular disciplines (eg business management, geology and agriculture) in a range of countries in Europe, Asia and North America. The number of exchange agreements is expanding rapidly.

Information about the exchange programs and study abroad generally are available from the International Programs Office, Old Classics Wing (entry via Level 7, Wills Building). Telephone (08) 303 5252.

Student Mail

All students are assigned a mailbox for internal mail. At the time of enrolment, students are asked to nominate (on the enrolment form) the department where they would like to receive their mail. You can change your mail box location up to 23 February 1995 by lodging a 'Change of Personal Details' form with the Student Records Office but please note that no changes will be acceptable after that date. Check your mailbox regularly as important information is often sent through the internal mail.

Textbooks

Lists of textbooks and reference books are no longer included in The Calendar Volume II: Handbook of Courses, except in courses where it is necessary for accreditation purposes. These courses are the degrees of Bachelor of Laws and Bachelor of Dental Surgery. However, students are advised that up-to-date lists of required textbooks for each subject are available from their departments.

The Union

The Adelaide University Union is governed by its Board consisting of students elected directly from the student body. The Union controls the annual disbursement of funds from the statutory fee and exists to foster a shared sense of identity among the student body. To this end, the Union provides a range of amenities and services to students such as catering, welfare, entertainment, physical facilities, art and craft, clubs, sports and representation.

Catering

The Union operates a number of eating outlets and vending machines on all campuses. A wide range of food and drink is provided to appeal to the tastes and preferences of all members, who are eligible for a 10% discount on all purchases from Student Union facilities. Current outlets on the North Terrace campus include the Helen Mayo Refectory, the Bistro, UniBar, Grill Bar, Four Seasons, Backstage Café, Gallery Coffee Shop and Catacombs, as well as an Asian Food Bar which is operated commercially.

Activities and Publications

The Union runs frequent activities such as bands in the UniBar, guest speakers, End of Term shows, and craft and leisure courses through the Craft Studio. The Craft Studio also offers a range of services and facilities such as badge-making, t-shirt printing, photography and pottery, and you can exhibit your work in the annual Staff/Student Exhibition held in the Union Gallery on Level 6 of Union House.

During enrolment you will receive a 'showbag' containing a variety of information, books and leaflets including a Union Diary. The diary provides a host of useful information about the University and the services and facilities provided by the Union and other student organisations on campus.

Section II: supports and services

Facilities

The Union offers a number of other facilities within the Union complex. These include the Cinema and Little Theatre and a range of meeting rooms which may be booked for meetings, forums, productions, films, conferences or whatever. Bookings can be made at the reception area of the Union on level 1 of the Lady Symon Building, or by telephoning (08) 303 5401. The Union also houses a number of commercial tenants such as UniBooks, the Record Shop, a chemist and Student Travel Australia (STA).

The other major facility operated by the Union for students is the Resource Centre. The centre houses nine IBM and three Macintosh terminals, and offers laserprinting as well as photocopying, binding and laminating. Software available includes Microsoft Word version 6, and Microsoft Excel and Aldus PageMaker. Expert staff are on hand to provide assistance at all times and regular tutorials are provided.

The Union also provides a Women's Room, officially called the Anna Menz Room, for the exclusive use of women on campus. The facilities include toilets, showers, a kitchen area, changing facilities for children, a rest area, lounge area and study area. The Women's Room is located on the basement level of the Lady Symon Building.

Education and Welfare Services

The Union has two Education/Welfare Officers, Karen Walker and Chris Gent, who are located on the ground floor of the Lady Symon Building at the north-western corner of the Cloisters. The E/WOs are able to advise students concerning welfare resources on campus, financial matters (AUSTUDY, ABSTUDY, Social Security), housing, personal problems and academic matters.

The Officers also act on behalf of the student population seeking representation concerning academic and administrative matters and appeals, and can offer advice on matters concerning students with disabilities, overseas students and student parents.

Other campuses

Union facilities are available at the Roseworthy campus and students studying at Roseworthy are also members of the Roseworthy Student Union. A range of activities and services are provided, including a tavern, lounge, canteen, equipment hire, lockers and photocopying facilities. There are various recreational areas available for student use, including a weights room and a swimming pool, while legal aid and medical care are also provided.

Students at the Waite Campus are also members of the Union and share the same rights as other students, but pay only half the statutory fee due to their limited access to the facilities at the North Terrace campus.

Activities for Waite undergraduate students are organised by the Adelaide University Agricultural Science Association. The students' common room in the teaching wing, the refectory in Urrbrae House (recently taken over by the Union) and the gardens and grounds of the campus provide facilities for recreational and other student activities. A Union Education/Welfare Officer visits the campus each week.

Students' Association

The Students' Association of the University of Adelaide (SAUA) is an affiliate of the Union and is the peak representative organisation for student matters. All students are granted automatic membership of the Students' Association upon payment of the statutory fee. The SAUA President, office-bearers, councillors, standing committees and delegates to the National Union of Students are elected annually by and from the student body, and hold regular open meetings where student activities and issues are addressed. The elected representatives for 1995 are:

Section II: supports and services

President:	Haron Hassan
Education Vice-President:	Michelle Giglio
Activities/Campaigns Vice-President:	Jessica Boland
Women's Officer:	Sandy Pitcher
Environment Officers:	Susie Brown & Tia Nairn
Orientation Coordinator:	Carl Panczak
On Dit Editors:	Matt Rawes, Bryan Scruby & Natasha Yacoub
Student Radio Directors:	Michael Dwyer & Paul Hoadley

The Students' Association provides services for students in a range of areas including:

Representation

The SAUA represents students both within the University, on various committees and directly to senior management, as well as to the wider community through the lobbying of state and federal governments and through representation to and by the National Union of Students.

Academic Grievances

There are a number of (often confusing) avenues you may take when pursuing an academic grievance and the Students' Association office bearers can assist you by outlining the best way to go about having your grievance heard. They can also advise you of your rights in this area and represent you to the University when your case is presented.

Services

The SAUA provides a range of services solely for the use of students on campus, including cheap photocopying, bromiding, laserprinting facilities, glue bucket hire for postering and employment and accommodation services. A free legal service for students will be introduced for one afternoon per week in 1995 financed by the University's Quality Assurance Fund. The Students' Association also publishes the weekly student newspaper On Dit, the quarterly education bulletin SAUA News, and subsidises Student Radio on 5UV.

Activities

Most of the activities that you see throughout the year are organised by the Students' Association, including Orientation Week, O'Camp, O'Ball, Host Scheme, PROSH and Re-Orientation. The SAUA also provides a range of other, smaller activities throughout the year to ensure that your stay at University is enjoyable and informative as well as academic. These include barbecues and bands on the Barr Smith Lawns, rallies, forums and general student meetings.

The SAUA employs four full-time staff to assist with your enquiries and is located in the north-eastern corner of the Cloisters in the George Murray Building (the office has disabled access). Drop in, or contact the SAUA by telephone: (08) 303 5383, (08) 303 5760, (08) 303 5406, (08) 303 5926, or fax: (08) 223 2412.

Postgraduate Students' Association

The Postgraduate Students' Association (PGSA) represents all postgraduate students on campus, and is a point of contact for postgraduate students needing advice, information or support. They are involved in policy development on a range of issues in addition to providing more tangible services to students and produce a newsletter each month which is distributed to all postgraduate students via departmental pigeonholes. The PGSA's work is co-ordinated and carried out by its Executive Committee and Research Officer/ Organiser. The PGSA office can be found on the ground floor of the Lady Symon Building in the Union complex, or by phone on (08) 303 5898.

Section II: supports and services

Overseas Students' Association

The Overseas Students' Association (OSA) represents all overseas students at the University. It aims to cater for the welfare and the educational and social needs of overseas students. The OSA's work is carried out by an elected Executive Committee, a social standing committee and through faculty representation. A part-time research officer will be employed in 1995.

Sports Association

The Sports Association supports more than 40 sporting groups affiliated with, and funded by, the Sports Association. Activities range from gliding to Tai Chi to snow skiing, and instructional classes are run in conjunction with the University's Centre for Physical Health (Uni Gym). The Sports Association also administers grounds on behalf of the University and equipment can be hired on a casual basis. Annual intersarsity competitions are run throughout Australia each year.

Clubs Association

The Clubs Association serves non-sporting groups at the University through its annual grant from the Union. There are over seventy clubs affiliated with the Clubs Association, each of whom receive funding to conduct activities and produce publications. Only twenty students are needed to start a club, the basis of which may be social, recreational, religious, political, department or faculty-based.

The Clubs and Sports Association office is located on the Ground Floor of the Lady Symon Building, in the north-western corner of the Cloisters, and can be contacted on (08) 303 5403.

Section III: rules and procedures

Students are referred to the section General Course Rules in the Calendar, Volume II, 1995 for details of rules pertaining to their studies. For convenience a few are reproduced here either in full or summary.

AIDS/Hepatitis B

The University has a policy regarding AIDS and Hepatitis B which states that all students, staff and visitors are guaranteed the following protection:

- the right to confidentiality
- a study or work environment free from discrimination and harassment
- access to clearly defined grievance procedures.

Information is provided by the University Health Service, the Counselling Centre and the Education/Welfare Officers.

The Faculty of Dentistry and the Faculty of Medicine requires that all undergraduate and post-graduate students entering the Faculty for the first time must attend the University Health Service within four weeks of their initial enrolment for advice regarding investigation of their Hepatitis B status and subsequent Hepatitis B immunisation. Counselling on 'duty of care' in relation to infectious diseases is provided.

All clinical students are required to abide by those hygiene rules laid down by the clinics and hospitals which they attend. For further details please refer to General Course Rules Volume II Calendar, 1995.

Assessment Procedures

Please note that brief details of the assessment procedures for all subjects are given in the relevant syllabuses which are outlined in The University of Adelaide Calendar, Volume II. Precise details of the assessment methods should be determined no later than two weeks after the commencement of the subject and will be available from the Department concerned. These will include the methods of examination and assessment in that subject and the relative weights given to the various components (eg those of the following that are relevant: assessments, semester or mid-year tests, essays or other written or practical work, final written examinations or viva voce examinations). In many subjects, but not all, students are given an opportunity to redeem any assessed work that has been failed.

Undergraduate students

For information and advice on assessment matters contact your subject coordinator, Head of Department, Faculty Course Adviser, Faculty Registrar or the Students' Association. Names, phone numbers and locations of the Faculty Registrars are listed in the front of this Guide.

Postgraduate students

For information and advice on supervision and related matters, contact your Supervisor, Departmental Postgraduate Coordinator, the Dean of Graduate Studies or the Postgraduate Students Association.

There is also a publication called The University of Adelaide Code of Practice which all postgraduate students will receive. If you do not receive a copy, please contact the Graduate Studies Branch to obtain one.

Assessment Policy and Appeals

The Assessment Policy establishes recognised principles and procedures under which Departments conduct assessment of students' work, and under which students may claim a review of an assessment mark or seek resolution of a grievance to do with assessment or academic status for work done elsewhere. The general principles are largely a statement of existing practices in the University: they are not all completely applicable to every course or discipline, and some Faculties and Departments follow additional assessment principles which are appropriate to them but not necessarily relevant to the whole University.

Section III: rules and procedures

Departmental Assessment Committees will provide an appropriate forum within which staff and students may periodically review assessment processes and make recommendations to the Head of Department, and where disputes may be resolved. The Student Academic Appeals Committee is required to deal with assessment and other grievances that have not been resolved at Departmental level. Its role is primarily to ensure due process and fairness: in assessment appeals it would not override the academic judgement of academic staff expert in a subject, but it may on occasions need to moderate the judgement of one expert with that of others. If the basic principles and procedures in assessment are followed at the Departmental level, there should seldom be grounds on which a student could justifiably appeal.

It is assumed that students will exercise their right to appeal in assessment matters responsibly. That is, appeals will be confined to cases where students genuinely believe they have reasonable grounds for expecting a higher mark. If the procedures are exploited merely in the hope of improving marks, the extra assessment load could become so burdensome that the right of appeal would have to be reviewed.

General Assessment Policy Principles

- 1 Types of assessed work should be appropriate to the learning objectives of the subject.
- 2 As much assessed work as possible should be discussed with the students who produced it, and where appropriate returned with written comments, to provide feedback about their strengths and weaknesses.
- 3 The total burden of assessed work should not be such as to affect students' approaches to learning in ways that are inconsistent with the learning objectives of the subject.
- 4 In many disciplines, there are a variety of ways in which students may demonstrate their understanding and mastery of subject matter and techniques. Where this is compatible with the need to assess various objectives, students should be given some choice in the types of work they submit, or the relative weight of different components. In some disciplines it will be appropriate for students to have some choice in the particular subject matter they focus on.
- 5 Departments should, with the active participation of students, periodically review the methods of assessment, the relative importance and validity of different types of assessment, the range of choice and the quantity of work required.
- 6 Students should have the opportunity to undertake supplementary assessment if they fail a subject, provided that they have made a reasonable effort, and it is considered that they have a reasonable possibility of passing at the second attempt (for further information, refer to the entry under 'Supplementary examinations' below). Where a substantial piece of work submitted during the teaching of a subject is judged below pass standard, students should have the opportunity of submitting another piece of work for assessment.
- 7 Departments are required to inform all students in writing, either before or within the first two weeks of the teaching of each subject, precisely what its assessment requirements are, including any choices, deadlines, opportunity for re-submission or supplementary assessment etc. Opportunity should be given for students to ask questions and discuss the modes of assessment.
- 8 Where practicable, assessment procedures should be designed to allow for the participation of more than one assessor for each student. (It is recognised that many specialist subjects in the later years of courses are taught and assessed by one person. Departmental moderation of standards is advisable to ensure maintenance of comparability.)
- 9 Departments should take steps to ensure accuracy and to guard against bias. Checking of additions, and of the assessment of students with marks at the borderline between assessment grades, should be standard procedure. Anonymity of work submitted may be desirable as a protection against bias.

Section III: rules and procedures

Assessment Procedures and Appeals

1 Departmental Assessment Committees

- 1 All Departments shall have an Assessment Committee consisting of staff and students; it may be an existing sub-committee of the Departmental Committee with other functions as well. (In small Departments it could appropriately be the Departmental Committee itself.)
- 2 The Committee should be primarily concerned with giving advice and making recommendations on assessment matters, including assessment disputes. Every staff member and student has the right to refer any assessment matter to this Committee.
- 3 The Committee shall be concerned with assessment in course-work subjects, not theses or research projects.
- 4 The Committee shall periodically review assessment schemes and procedures, and their relationship to course aims.
- 5 The Committee may receive complaints from staff or students relating to assessment schemes, the way an assessment scheme or procedure has been administered or the fairness of assessments actually made. (For appeals procedures against particular assessments, see Appeals below)
- 6 The Committee shall act as a lower tribunal in hearing allegations of offences against Statute Chapter XVII or against particular Faculty or Departmental rules concerning assessment.

2 Right to Request Review of Assessment

- 1 Where qualitative judgement is involved in assessment, a student may request that a piece of work assessed by one person be re-assessed, if, after discussing the piece of work and the mark with the assessor, the student remains aggrieved about the mark awarded.
- 2 In the first instance the request should be made to the lecturer in charge of the subject. If, after discussing the result with the lecturer, the student still wishes to have it re-assessed, the lecturer in charge should arrange for this to be done by a different person in the Department or elsewhere in the University, wherever this is practicable.
- 3 If the assessor is the only person assessing the subject, the student may make the request to the Head of Department, who should appoint a second assessor, unless there is no appropriately qualified person available.
- 4 The second assessor shall independently mark the piece of work. The two assessors shall then compare marks and endeavour to reach an agreed mark. If the two cannot agree, the Head of Department shall decide what mark shall be awarded.
- 5 If a student is denied a request for a second assessor, the student may take the matter to the Departmental Assessment Committee.
- 6 The Departmental Assessment Committee shall consider whether the student's grounds for requesting a second assessor are sufficient, and if so, advise the Head of Department to appoint a second assessor. If there is no appropriately qualified person available within the University, the Head, after consulting the lecturer in charge of a subject, shall ask an appropriate person outside the University to re-assess the work.
- 7 Where two or more staff members teach a subject, in which qualitative judgement forms a significant part of the assessment, at least two assessors should, whenever practicable, take part in the assessment of each student. No student should be given a Fail for such a subject unless two assessors have assessed at least part of that student's work, and agree that a Fail classification is appropriate.
- 8 A student who has been denied a request by the Departmental Assessment Committee for a second assessor may appeal to the Student Academic Appeals Committee (see following).

Section III: rules and procedures

3 Assessment Appeals

- 1 Any student dissatisfied with the final grade awarded for a subject should discuss the result with the lecturer in charge of the subject as soon as possible after being notified of the result. If the student is still not satisfied with the result, he or she may lodge an appeal with the Head of Department.
- 2 The Head of Department may endeavour to resolve the matter, or may refer it directly to the Departmental Assessment Committee. The student shall in any case have the right to take the matter to the Assessment Committee.
- 3 The Committee shall consider the appeal, discussing the matter with the student, the Head of Department and all staff members who have participated in assessing the subject, and may seek advice from other persons as it thinks fit.
- 4 The Committee shall make a recommendation to the Head of Department who shall either accept it or refer it to the full Departmental Committee for further advice and shall inform the student of the Department's decision.
- 5 Where the examining body is a Faculty Board of Examiners, the student should discuss the result with the convener of the Board of Examiners, and may appeal to the Faculty Student Matters Committee.
- 6 A student who believes he or she has not been justly dealt with by the foregoing process may appeal to the Student Academic Appeals Committee.

4 Preclusion

Please refer to the section on 'Review of Academic Progress' and if necessary, Grievance Procedures for assistance with appeals. Details are also contained in the General Course Rules Calendar Volume II, 1995.

5 Student Academic Appeals Committee

- 1 Students shall have the right to appeal against final grades for subjects, and committee decisions concerning assessment procedures. (The Student Academic Appeals Committee shall not hear appeals relating to misconduct.)
- 2 The following appeals policy and procedures do not apply to the progress or examination of postgraduate theses or research projects, for which the appeal body is the Board of Graduate Studies.
- 3 The Student Academic Appeals Committee shall be composed as follows:
 - two members of Council who are not employees or students of the University;
 - two members of the academic staff who are not members of the Department or Departments concerned in the appeal;
 - two students who are not enrolled for subjects in the Department or Departments concerned in the appeal.

For appeals concerning administrative operations of the University, a nominee of the Registrar shall be added to the Committee.

- 4 The Council shall appoint the two Council members, one of them to be Convener of the Committee. The Vice-Chancellor shall nominate six members of the academic staff and, in consultation with the Students' Association, six students to a pool of potential Committee members. On notification by a student of intention to appeal, the Secretary of the Student Academic Appeals Committee shall select two academic and two student representatives from this pool in accordance with the restriction specified above.
- 5 An appeal against a decision shall be heard after the student concerned gives notice in writing of intention to appeal. Notice of appeal must give all relevant information regarding attempts which have been made to have the decision changed, and state the grounds for the appeal. Where there is no evidence that the matter has been previously taken to the appropriate Departmental or Faculty Committee the appeal will not be heard.

Section III: rules and procedures

- 6 Adequate notification of the date of meeting shall be given both to the student and to the Department or Faculty defending the appeal.
- 7 The student may ask a Student Counsellor, another student, a staff member or an officer of a Students' Association, to assist in presenting the appeal.
- 8 The Appeals Committee shall determine its own procedures, but shall not itself re-assess a student's work which may be in dispute. If satisfied that there are sufficient grounds for so doing, it may order that a piece of work be re-assessed by a person with appropriate expertise outside the Department concerned, selected in consultation with the Head of Department.
- 9 The Academic Appeals Committee may refuse to continue hearing an appeal or complaint if it decides that the appeal or complaint is vexatious or malicious.

note: Malicious or persistently vexatious appeals or complaints against individual members of the academic staff, or against Departments may be treated as misconduct, and the student may be proceeded against by an affected member of the University, or by the Student Academic Appeals Committee, under the provisions of Chapter XII of the Statutes, which state that:

'misconduct means any unjustified act or omission of a student which adversely affects the University or any member of the University in his or her capacity as such'.

Class Attendance

Students are normally required to attend lectures, tutorials, laboratory or other practical work or field work. Departments vary in the emphasis they place on attendance at classes and students who may wish to know a Department's policy in this regard are advised to check with the Department at the beginning of the year.

Students who are not permitted to sit an examination for assessment in a subject because of unsatisfactory attendance or unsatisfactory work will have a 'fail' recorded for that subject.

Students are advised to check the Specific Course Rules in Volume II of the Calendar, 1995, for any policies on required attendance as these requirements may vary from course to course.

Computing Facilities

1 General

Computing facilities provided by the University for students are primarily for use in association with a course of study and activities related to that course.

It is expected that all students will make use of University computing facilities in a manner which is ethical, legal and does not interfere with use by others.

Failure to abide by the following rules will be treated as misconduct and may result in disciplinary action.

2 Rules for students

- (a) You may use only those facilities which have been authorised for your use. If access is protected by a password, you may not make this password available to others. You may not use any account set up for another user, nor may you attempt to find out the password of another user.
- (b) You may only use authorised facilities for authorised purposes. For example, facilities made available for learning and teaching may not be used for private purposes.

Section III: rules and procedures

- (c) You may not copy any software unless it is your own, or it is public domain software, or the copying has been authorised by the University. In practice, there will be very few situations in which it is permitted to copy software. If in doubt, do not copy.
- (d) You may not attempt to copy information belonging to other users (whether they be staff, students or others) without their express permission.
- (e) You may not attempt to interfere with the operation of computing facilities.
- (f) You may not attempt to subvert the security of any of the University's computing facilities.
- (g) You may not use the University's computing facilities to send obscene, offensive or harassing messages.

3 Breach of Rules

- (a) Failure to observe these requirements could mean that an action for misconduct will be brought against you. The University's Board of Conduct has the power to impose a fine of up to $100 or suspend a student's right to use any University facility for up to one year. It can also recommend to Council that a student be suspended or expelled from the University.,
- (b) Misconduct that amounts to sexual harassment may be dealt with by the University's Sexual Harassment Committee. Some types of harassment or offensive conduct may be in breach of the Equal Opportunities Act.
- (c) Some forms of conduct may be criminal offences. These include hacking, theft, and unauthorised copying. Using a password protected computer system without authority could result in a fine of up to $2000 and imprisonment. Sending an offensive message may also be a criminal offence.
- (d) Some conduct, in particular unauthorised copying, could result in civil legal action being taken against you.
- (e) Academic staff have a general power to dismiss students from their classes if they consider the student is disrupting the class; and a Chairman of department may exclude any student from any class in that department 'for any cause he or she shall deem sufficient'. (Such exclusion may be reversed, varied or confirmed by University Council).
- (f) Breaches or suspected breaches of the rules should be reported to a supervisor, the Chairman of the relevant Local Management Group, or the Director, University Computing Services.

Course Overloads

Students who contemplate undertaking more than a normal course load must obtain approval of their course from their Faculty's Course Adviser. If a student is enrolled in two Faculties, approval of one adviser from each Faculty is required.

If the extra subject or subjects are not included in the Schedules of their courses, students may be charged non-award tuition fees.

Students should be aware of the full implications of their choice to take a course overload and they may wish to discuss the question with a member of the University's Counselling Service staff or an Education/Welfare Officer.

Section III: rules and procedures

Enrolments

Particulars of general procedures for enrolment may be found in an instruction leaflet which commencing students received with their South Australian Tertiary Admission Centre (SATAC) offer, and continuing students with their 1994 academic results. Students who have not received a copy of the Enrolment leaflet may obtain one from Student Records, Level 5, Wills Building. Specific enrolment procedures required by each Faculty will be published and available during the enrolment period.

Students who are unable to be in Adelaide during the enrolment period may authorise, in writing, another person to enrol on their behalf. However, students are strongly advised to lodge their enrolments in person.

An enrolment lodged outside the enrolment period may be subject to a $50 late fee (see University Charges).

Enrolment and amendment to enrolment

Students who have lodged an enrolment form will have their enrolment recorded in the University's official records in accordance with the information they have provided on that form. Re-enrolling students who owe fees or charges or have Library commitments will not be permitted to re-enrol until the outstanding obligations have been met. Students wishing to add, withdraw from, or alter subjects, must obtain an 'Amendment to Enrolment Form' from their Faculty's Course Adviser, Faculty Registrar or from the Student Records Office. The form must then be completed, approved in accordance with the relevant Faculty procedures and lodged at the Faculty office.

Students should note that, after their initial enrolment, it will not be possible to change any of their enrolment details before Orientation week, except on one day only, the 14 February. This may affect entry into quota subjects and restrict your timetable alternatives. If you are unsure about any of your subject choices you should discuss the matter with a Faculty Course Adviser.

Withdrawal dates

If you withdraw from your course completely before 31 March, your enrolment will be deleted. If you withdraw from Semester 1 or full year subjects before 31 March or from Semester 2 subjects before 31 August your enrolment in these subjects will be deleted. (note: 'Deletion' means that your enrolment in that course or subject will not be recorded on your official transcript.)

Students who fully withdraw from their course by 31 March but who wish to pursue the option of studying in the course in the following year must advise the South Australian Tertiary Admission Centre (SATAC) that they wish to defer their offer of admission.

The last dates for withdrawing from subjects without the withdrawal counting as a failure are as follows:

semester 1 subjects the end of the ninth teaching week of the semester
(excluding the mid-semester break), 12 May 1995.

semester 2 subjects the end of the ninth teaching week of the semester
(excluding the mid-semester break), 6 October 1995.

full year subjects the end of the fourth week of second semester, 18 August 1995.

The last date for withdrawing from subjects is as follows:

semester 1 subjects the last day of semester 1, 9 June 1995.

semester 2 subjects the last day of semester 2, 3 November 1995.

full year subjects the last day of semester 2, 3 November 1995.

Students should realise the importance of this matter in relation to the annual review of academic progress conducted by Faculties. Withdrawals which are regarded as failures may result in students being precluded from taking further studies in their course.

Section III: rules and procedures

Students who may be contemplating withdrawing are strongly advised to consider carefully all the relevant factors before reaching a decision. In particular, before deciding to withdraw completely, they should investigate whether, with suitable available assistance or modification of their course, they might be able to continue their studies. They may find it helpful first to consult one or more of the following: their Faculty Course Adviser; their Faculty Registrar; the University Health Service; The Counselling Service or the Education/Welfare Officers. With the exception of the Faculty Course Advisers, the names, locations and telephone numbers of these officers are contained at the front of this Guide.

Examinations

Most examinations are held in June, July, November and January. (Please refer to the 'Principal Dates' at the beginning of this booklet.)

Timetables indicating dates, times and locations of examinations are posted on the noticeboard in the undercroft of the Napier Building, Johnson Building Verandah, Schulz Building Verandah and Students Association Cloisters, North Terrace Campus, and the Student Notice Boards at Roseworthy and Waite Campuses.

Notification of results

All students are notified of their results by post. Please note that Notification of Results are sent to the home address, not the semester address. This is particularly relevant to International students or students planning to travel.

Rules for the conduct of examinations

- 1 No candidate shall enter the examination room during any examination more than forty minutes after the time fixed for the beginning of the reading period of the examination except with the consent of a Supervisor.
- 2 No candidate shall be allowed to leave the examination room during any examination before forty minutes have elapsed from the commencement of the reading period of the examination except with the consent of a Supervisor.
 - 3.1 A candidate who wishes to leave the room temporarily must obtain the consent of a Supervisor before doing so.
 - 3.2 A candidate who leaves the examination room may be permitted to return to it during that examination only at the absolute discretion of a Supervisor.
- 4.1 When the five-minute warning before the end of the examination is given, all candidates shall remain seated until their examination papers have been collected.
- 4.2 All candidates shall remain seated until all examination papers have been collected and an announcement is made by a Supervisor that candidates may leave the room.

It is recommended that students carefully read the Statutes, Chapter XVII of 'Examinations and Other Forms of Assessment'.

Special arrangements

A student whose performance in an examination could be affected by a physical condition of a permanent or temporary nature should consult the Student Health Service as soon as possible

Students who are unable to sit examinations on certain days or times because of their religious beliefs should contact the Examinations Officer, Julie Garreffa, on Level 5, Wills Building as soon as possible (telephone (08) 303 5209).

Grievance Procedures

As a student at the University of Adelaide there are times when you may encounter problems with your course or with some other aspect of your contact with the University. If you believe that you have a legitimate grievance then you are encouraged to lodge a complaint. The following guidelines are adapted from Student Grievances: Policies and Procedures in the General Course Rules, University Calendar, Volume II, 1995. You are expected to refer to these if you have any doubts as to the appropriate behaviour regarding grievances.

These policies and procedures are intended to provide fair and adequate means by which to air grievances, and it is expected that you will act responsibly when doing so. Grievances should be resolved at the informal level wherever possible, and most grievances can be resolved quickly by direct discussion between the individuals concerned. If this is not possible, however, there are formal procedures that should be followed and timelines exist to ensure that the complaint is dealt with as quickly as possible.

Assistance

All students are able to seek assistance from disinterested third parties when dealing with their grievance at any level. This can be in the form of assistance with information, guidance as to the correct procedure to follow, or in the form of a mediator or advocate to act on behalf of the student.

Persons responsible for dealing with grievances shall advise students concerned to seek advice, in the first instance, from one of the following persons:

- Students' Association (SAUA)
location: George Murray Building, Northeast Corner of Union Complex
telephone: (08) 303 5406, 303 5760, 303 5926
- Education/Welfare Officers, Adelaide University Union
location: Lady Simon Building, Northwest corner of Union Complex
telephone: (08) 303 5401
- Postgraduate Students' Association (PGSA)
location: Lady Simon Building, Western end of Cloisters, Union Complex
telephone: (08) 303 5898
- Equal Opportunity Office
location: Hughes Plaza
telephone: (08) 303 5962
- Health and Counselling Centre
location: Horace Lamb Building
telephone: (08) 303 5663

Confidentiality

All complaints will be handled in a confidential manner. Further to this, persons dealing with complaints relating to individual staff members shall ask the student if she/he wishes her/his identity to remain confidential from the individual concerned. They shall also advise the student, if she/he is unsure about withholding identity, to consult one of the assistance providers above.

In some circumstances, due to the nature of the grievance, it may not be possible for the identity of the student to be withheld from the individual concerned. In such cases the student involved must decide whether to reveal her/his identity or to discontinue with the complaint. Under no circumstances can the identity of a claimant be disclosed to anybody without her/his express permission.

Victimisation of students who lodge complaints is prohibited.

Section III: rules and procedures

Timelines (Academic Programmes and Status)

Receipt of a complaint from a student must be acknowledged within one week, and notification of the outcome within one month of it being lodged wherever possible. Where the responsibility for dealing with the complaint is transferred to another party both the student and the party to whom responsibility has been directed shall be informed within the initial one week period. The timeline relating to the outcome of the grievance may be waived at the discretion of the person responsible for dealing with the complaint but the student(s) must be informed of this in writing, within the one month period wherever possible.

Students should also note that there are timelines applicable when submitting for a re-mark of work or a review of final grades. This information should be available through the relevant department.

Postgraduate Students

Students undertaking a Doctoral or Masters by Research Degree are covered by the University's Code of Practice for Maintaining and Monitoring Academic Quality and Standards in Higher Degrees. Assistance regarding grievances for postgraduate students is available through the Research and Graduate Studies Branch.

Honours students, on the other hand, are covered by the same procedures as undergraduate students. If you are having problems with your supervisor it is suggested you contact your Head of Department or one of the assistance providers listed above.

All postgraduate students, including those studying at Honours or Graduate Diploma level, are represented by the Postgraduate Students' Association.

Assessment Policy and Procedure

Students may wish to register a complaint regarding a subject's assessment procedure, a mark given for a piece of work, or an overall subject grade. If the grievance relates to a re-mark for a piece of work, students should take the following steps:

Step 1

Attempt to resolve the matter informally by approaching the lecturer or subject co-ordinator concerned. If you feel unable to do so you may proceed directly to Step 2.

Step 2

If unresolved, the dispute should then be taken to the Head of the Department concerned. She/he may choose to deal personally with the matter or direct it to the Department Assessment Committee.

Step 3

If a request for a re-mark is denied, the student can take the complaint to the Departmental Assessment Committee (made up of staff and student representatives).

Step 4

If the matter is unable to be resolved at the departmental level, it can be brought before the Student Academic Appeals Committee. The committee consists of six staff and six student members, and two members of the University Council, a selection of whom hear an individual case. To appeal you will need to make an application to the Secretary of the Student Appeals Committee, c/- the Registry Secretariat, University of Adelaide.

If the grievance relates to an overall grade, much the same procedure should be followed, except that Steps 2 and 3 should be replaced with the following:

Step 2

If the grievance relates to an overall subject grade, where the examining body is a Faculty Board of Examiners, the student should discuss the matter with the Convenor of the Board of Examiners.

Section III: rules and procedures

Step 3

If the matter remains unresolved, the student may subsequently appeal to the Faculty Student Matters Committee.

Any of the assistance providers mentioned above, or anybody else whom you feel may be appropriate, is able to act on your behalf at any or all of these levels.

Grievances relating to individual members of staff

If an individual member of staff behaves in a manner whereby you feel you have been unfairly or adversely affected, you are entitled to lodge a complaint. Adherence to the following steps is encouraged:

Step 1

Wherever possible deal with the individual staff member involved. It is recognised, however, that this may not always be possible, or that you may feel uncomfortable in doing so.

Step 2

Approach the Head/Manager/Director of the relevant Department or Area orally in the first instance. You may ask one of the assistance providers to do this on your behalf. If the staff member concerned is either a Head of Department or a Dean, then consult the Dean and the Vice-Chancellor respectively.

Step 3

If the matter is not resolved in this manner you may wish to lodge a formal complaint in writing to those officers outlined in Step 2.

Sexual Harassment Procedures

Grievances of this nature are governed by a separate set of rules. A student who is being (or has been) subjected to some form of sexual harassment can take the matter to one of the trained Sexual Harassment Contact Officers on campus. A list of these officers is available from the Equal Opportunity Office and includes representatives from most departments within the University.

Equal Opportunity Grievances

Those that cannot be dealt with via the above procedures or those outlined under 'Administrative Operations' should be referred to the Director of Equal Opportunity.

Other complaints

Grievances regarding administrative operations

Students may lodge a complaint regarding the operation of some part of the University, a committee or other administrative component, or of the operations of the University as a whole. This includes the procedures followed by the committee or other body, action or inaction on its part, or a decision taken by that particular body.

To pursue such a complaint students should approach the person in charge of the relevant body. Those assistance providers mentioned above will be able to inform you as to the identity of the relevant individual, and can represent you in any dealings you have in this regard.

Complaints relating to other students

There are procedures for dealing with these in the University Statutes. While a written complaint may be made to the Registrar, it should be noted that this is a very formal way to proceed and would be warranted only in the most serious of circumstances. The first step would be to approach an assistance provider.

Grievances regarding recognition of prior learning (status or credit transfer)

If you have any queries regarding status or credit transfer for work completed prior to your studies at this University (or in a different course at this University), attempts should be made to deal with the matter informally through the relevant course co-ordinator. If the matter remains unresolved, the matter can be taken to the Department Assessment Committee (if it relates to an individual subject) or to the Faculty Registrar (if it relates to the overall course).

Section III: rules and procedures

Supplementary assessment

Policy and procedures regarding Supplementary Assessment are listed in a separate set of rules. The Head of Department is responsible for ensuring that they are given to students in writing with their assessment details for each subject.

Plagiarism and related forms of cheating

As with Supplementary Assessment Procedures, all Departments are required to inform students of these rules when informing them of assessment requirements. This is a requirement of the University Statutes.

Review of Academic Progress (Clause 4C)

Students may be precluded from study or required to take a modified course if their academic progress is considered unsatisfactory. If you are experiencing problems with this or general problems with study, please consult the relevant assistance provider.

Intellectual property produced by students

It is the intention of the University to encourage students to be creative in their pursuit of scholarship, to publish the results of their research and make them widely available.

If no employment contract exists between the University and a student, the student owns his/her intellectual property.

Intellectual property is mainly that property which is capable of being legally protected and includes: patentable and non-patentable inventions; registrable designs; trade marks; works subject to copyright (including written or audio-visual material and computer software); trade secrets relating to know-how and preliminary arrangements for commercial development; proprietary rights granted under the Plant Variety Rights Act subject to any special policy developed with respect to such rights. Mere ideas and suggestions are not usually regarded as intellectual property.

The University's policy on intellectual property is contained in section 10.13 of the Handbook of Administrative Policies and Practices (available in Departmental Offices). The policy is also reproduced in the University of Adelaide's Code of Practice for Maintaining and Monitoring Academic Quality and Standards for Higher Degrees.

Plagiarism and related forms of cheating

1 Plagiarism is expressly prohibited by Statute Chapter XVII 'Of Examinations and Assessment' (the full text of the Statute is printed in The University of Adelaide Calendar Volume I) which states under Section 2:

'No candidate shall submit for assessment, whether by examination or otherwise, any piece of work which is not entirely the candidate's own, except where either:

- (a) use of the words or ideas of others is appropriate and is duly acknowledged, or
- (b) the examiner has given prior permission for joint or collaborative work to be submitted.'

2 Definition

Plagiarism consists of a person using the words or ideas of another as if they were his or her own. The University regards plagiarism as a very serious offence. At the very least it is a misuse of academic conventions; where it is deliberate and systematic, plagiarism is cheating and false pretences. It is the obligation of every member of the University to understand and respect the rules concerning plagiarism; the excuse of ignorance will not be accepted.

Plagiarism can take several forms:

Section III: rules and procedures

- (i) presenting substantial extracts from books, articles, theses, and other published or unpublished works such as working papers, seminar and conference papers, internal reports, computer software, lecture notes or tapes, and other students' work, without clearly indicating their origin with quotation marks and references such as footnotes;
- (ii) using very close paraphrasing of sentences or whole paragraphs without due acknowledgment in the form of reference to the original work;
- (iii) quoting directly from a source and failing to insert quotation marks around the quoted passages. In such cases, it is not adequate to merely acknowledge the source.

(note: Be careful in your note-taking because plagiarism may arise inadvertently. If your notes include quotations or paraphrasing, make sure that fact is recorded so that you do not mistake the work of another for your own and so that you can source the material in your final draft.)

3. Related forms of cheating

Other forms of cheating which will also be treated with the utmost seriousness include:

- (i) submitting work written by someone else on the student's behalf;
- (ii) submitting another student's work whether or not it has been previously submitted by that student;
- (iii) two students separately submitting the same piece of work upon which they have illicitly collaborated;

(note: Students can and do work together on projects and assignments. This is good practice, and many find it rewarding. The work of each student, however, which is submitted for assessment must be work of that student alone except for material which is acknowledged as being derived from another—even another student. Study together and discuss your assignment with others—but ensure that the work submitted is your own. Do your writing quite independently. When in doubt, you should consult your subject coordinator and get written permission to work together on projects and assignments.)

- (iv) a student submitting a piece of his or her own work for two different subjects;
- (v) a student assisting any candidate in an examination or other piece of assessed individual work, or accepting assistance in such an examination or other piece of assessed individual work, except in accordance with approved study and assessment schemes;
- (vi) a student having in his or her possession during an examination any material other than that which the examiner has specified as permissible;
- (vii) a student causing any disturbance or engaging in conduct likely to disturb any other candidate in an examination (the Senior Examination Officer may require a candidate causing any disturbance to leave the examination room).

Cases of plagiarism or related forms of cheating will be dealt with under the terms of Statute XII of Conduct of Students in University.

Professional postgraduate courses

Most students enrolling in professional courses (eg M.B.A., LL.M., Graduate Diploma, Graduate Certificate courses) will be required to pay tuition fees calculated on a per subject basis. Each year the Council of the University approves the courses for which tuition fees may be charged and the level of the fees. A brochure defining these fees is available from the Office of Continuing Education, level 2, Capita Tower, 10-20 Pulteney Street, Adelaide (telephone 303 4777).

Payment of tuition fees will exempt such students from paying the Higher Education Contribution with respect to the course and, in some cases, may be tax deductible.

Section III: rules and procedures

Repeating students

Students who are repeating subjects, particularly a laboratory subject, which they have failed may be eligible to be granted exemption from lectures (if they are compulsory), tutorials or seminars, practical work and examinations (practical or written). Preliminary enquiries should be addressed to the Department concerned or the relevant Faculty Registrar.

Review of academic progress (Clause 4C)

Under the provisions of Clause 4C of Chapter XXV of the Statutes, students whose academic progress is considered to be unsatisfactory may be precluded from taking further studies in the course for which they are enrolled; or further enrolment in that course may not be permitted for one academic year; or they may be permitted to re-enrol, but with a restricted program of study.

Safety Procedures

The University of Adelaide recognises its obligation to take all reasonable precautions to safeguard the health, safety and welfare of its employees and students while they are at work. The University also believes that students leaving this University must take with them an attitude which accepts good health and safety practice as normal.

Laboratory Conduct Procedures must be adhered to by all who work in laboratories. Students who fail to comply with these procedures will not be allowed to work in the laboratory. General laboratory rules include:

- no eating, drinking or application of cosmetics in laboratories
- closed-in footwear must be worn at all times (bare feet, thongs and sandals are prohibited)
- laboratory coats, or gowns tied at the back, must be worn
- aisles must be kept free from obstructions.

A copy of the Laboratory Conduct Procedures is available from Department Secretaries, Department Health and Safety Officers, or the Occupational Health and Safety Unit and are contained in Appendix A of the General Course Rules, University Calendar, Volume II, 1995.

Scholarships and Prizes

Many of the scholarships and prizes available at The University of Adelaide are described in The University Calendar, Volume I. Further information regarding postgraduate scholarships and major awards is obtainable from the Registrar, Scholarships, or the Scholarships Officer, in the Research and Graduate Studies Branch, Level 7, Wills Building (telephone (08) 303 5725/ 303 5697). Interested students should also consult the scholarships noticeboard on Level 7, Wills Building, at regular intervals and the University's fortnightly newsletter The Adelaidean which includes the latest news about scholarships and the Research and Graduate Studies update which is distributed regularly to Departments.

Sexual Harassment

Introduction

The University is committed to providing an equal opportunity environment within the University which is free from sexual harassment for all members of the University community. This chapter provides a definition of sexual harassment, as well as information on procedures for making a complaint of sexual harassment. The names of Contact Officers who can provide assistance with any matter related to sexual harassment and Members of the Sexual Harassment Committee can be obtained from the Equal Opportunity Office (Hughes Plaza, telephone 303 5962) or from the Students' Association.

1 Defining Sexual Harassment

Sexual harassment is impossible to define exhaustively, but it includes any verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature which is unsolicited and unwelcome and which:

- 1 implicitly or explicitly becomes a term or condition of a person's academic evaluation or employment; or
- 2 implicitly or explicitly becomes a term or condition for decisions which bear on a person's grades in academic evaluation or employment conditions such as appointment, promotion, salary or any other work conditions; or
- 3 has the purpose or effect of unreasonably interfering with an individual's academic or work performance; or
- 4 creates an intimidating, hostile or offensive learning, academic or working environment.

Even forms of sexual harassment which are commonly thought mild or trivial can be personally offensive, particularly in staff/student or employer/employee relationships where there is formal inequality of status.

2 Seeking Advice

A person may wish to seek advice about sexual harassment without necessarily wishing to pursue a complaint. Some wish to make a statement of their concern about a situation, but not a complaint.

3 Making a Complaint

Anyone considering complaining about sexual harassment is urged to discuss the matter with a Contact Officer.

Generalised Complaints

Generalised complaints are complaints where the behaviour complained of is not directed towards a particular individual, but is nevertheless offensive, eg the display of sexist posters, or telling dirty jokes in lectures. In such cases, the person complained against would not necessarily be informed of who had complained.

Informal Intervention

An informal complaint makes the person complained of aware of the problem, but does not have a formal outcome. Informal intervention can be discussed with a contact officer.

Formal Complaints

A complainant may decide to make a formal complaint without attempting other measures first, or could decide to make a formal complaint if the informal intervention has failed to resolve the issue. In a formal complaint, the complainant makes a written statement and there is an investigation and determination made on what action, if any, is appropriate.

Section III: rules and procedures

4 The Rights of Complainants

- 1 Complainants will be encouraged to take action themselves to resolve the complaint, with the support of a contact person.
- 2 Contact people may advise anyone on matters related to sexual harassment. However, action can only be taken on complaints by persons claiming to have been harassed or by persons authorised by them in writing.
- 3 Complainants will be informed of alternative courses of action open to them outside the University. If the complainant decides to pursue an alternative course of action the contact officer and the Committee must not proceed with the complaint until the other action is concluded. The complainant shall notify the contact officer of any other course of action taken.
- 4 Any attempt to penalise a complainant for complaining is prohibited, and shall be the subject of University disciplinary procedures.

Status for previous studies (Credit transfer)

Students seeking credit for work completed at either this University or another tertiary institution should obtain an 'Application for Status' form from the Faculty Registrar of the Faculty in which they are enrolled. The completed form should be lodged with the relevant Faculty Registrar.

An application for status on the grounds of work completed at another tertiary institution will be considered only if accompanied by a certified copy of the applicant's complete academic record (original or certified copy) and copies of the syllabuses of the relevant subjects and details of the structure of the course previously studied.

Statutory fees, Tuition fees and other charges

Payment of the prescribed Statutory Fees is compulsory for every student. Details of these fees are available in the Enrolment Details Brochure forwarded to all new students with their SATAC offer and continuing students with their results. These fees are additional to the HECS liability and are collected as part of the enrolment process.

Students who withdraw from a course during the year may be entitled to a partial or full refund of Statutory Fees already paid depending on the date of withdrawal. Applications for refunds of fees should be made to the Revenue Office, 230 North Terrace.

Tuition fees

The University offers a range of professional postgraduate courses designed to provide professional continuing education. These courses (eg M.B.A., LL.M. and most Graduate Diplomas and Graduate Certificates) are subject to tuition fees. Payment of tuition fees for such courses exempts students from any Higher Education Contribution Scheme (HECS) liability.

Tuition fees for professional postgraduate courses are collected by the University's Office of Continuing Education. Students enrolled in professional postgraduate courses will receive an invoice from the Office of Continuing Education during the first weeks of each semester. Amendments to enrolments lodged prior to the relevant withdraw-not-fail date for each semester will result in an automatic refund to students. Tuition fee refunds will not generally be given for amendments to enrolment lodged after the relevant semester withdraw-not-fail date.

Section III: rules and procedures

Students should note that outstanding tuition fee obligations can result in cancellation of enrolment. Students may also be placed in 'financial bad standing' with the University which will preclude further enrolments, the processing of any results, printing of transcripts and graduation until the outstanding debt is settled.

The Office of Continuing Education operates a student loan scheme for students in need of financial assistance with their tuition fees. Enquiries should be directed to the Office of Continuing Education, level 2 Capita Tower, 10-20 Pulteney Street, Adelaide (telephone (08) 303 4777

University charges

A charge of $50 may be made by the University in cases of late enrolment.

A charge of $20 may be made in cases of late application for graduation.

Students who arrange to take their examinations externally are responsible for the payment of charges for supervision and should consult the Examinations Officer, Julie Garreffa, Level 5 Wills Building, telephone (08) 303 5209.

Student Identity Cards

The Student Identity Card enables students to use the facilities of the Students Union and to borrow books from the library. Full-time students may use their Identity cards as an Trans Adelaide Concession Card.

If you are a continuing student and already have an Identity card from the previous year, present the receipt of your Union fees to either the Library desk at the enrolment centre or, after the enrolment period, the membership desk of the Barr Smith Library and your card will be revalidated for the current year. A new card will be produced for new students who will also need to present their receipts. If your Identity card is lost or destroyed, contact the membership desk of the Barr Smith Library (please note that you will need to present proof of payment of fees in order to obtain a replacement card).

Subject quotas

Some subjects have quota restrictions. While no compulsory subject for a course will be restricted, students should be careful when selecting subjects.

Students should check with their Faculty Registrar to determine which subjects are liable to quota restrictions and the method by which students will be selected into them.

Supplementary examinations

Students who are prevented by illness or by circumstances beyond their control from attending an examination, or students who believe that illness or special circumstances have significantly affected their preparation or performance, may apply for a supplementary examination on medical or compassionate grounds. Supplementary examinations may also be granted on academic grounds.

Please note that the University's policy now requires students requesting supplementary examinations to lodge their application with the Faculty Registrar, not the department.

Section III: rules and procedures

Right to academic supplementary examination in certain circumstances

Students are to have the opportunity to undertake supplementary assessment if they fail a subject, provided that they have made a reasonable effort and are considered to have a reasonable chance of passing at the second attempt.

Each department is responsible for defining its policy on academic supplementary examinations so that all students in each subject are treated equally. In many cases, a 'reasonable effort' for the purposes of granting academic supplementary examinations is defined as results in the range of 40–49 with supplementary examinations being awarded automatically to students who achieve marks of 45–49 and, at the discretion of the examiner or examiners' committee, to students who achieve marks of 40–44.

Applications for supplementary examinations on medical or compassionate grounds

Medical information from a student's private doctor is assessed by the University Health Service. Applications for supplementary examinations of medical or compassionate grounds are to be lodged with the Faculty Registrar within seven days of the corresponding primary examinations.

Granting of medical certificates

In order to minimise confusion and to ensure that students are not disadvantaged, the Student Health Service wishes to remind all students of the following important points in relation to applications for supplementary examinations on medical grounds.

- 1 As a general rule, you should attempt the examinations.
- 2 If you submit an application on medical grounds, it will be to your advantage if you are able to see a doctor on the day of the illness so that an accurate assessment of your condition can be made.
- 3 Retrospective certificates are not accepted.
- 4 While the Health Service values the advice from local medical practitioners in making an assessment of each application, the final medical certificate sent to the University Faculties is provided by the Health Service doctors. The category of unfit to sit an examination is reserved for major illness that prevents attendance at the examination. It may be that advice to you from your local doctor that you are unfit is not supported by clinical symptoms and signs that are documented.
- 5 As a general rule, the Health Service does not consider minor ailments such as colds and mild respiratory infections as grounds for being certified unfit to sit an exam.
- 6 The advice provided to the University Faculties/Academic staff by the Health Service (on your behalf) is advice — we do not make the decision on whether you are granted a supplementary or not. That decision remains the responsibility of the Academic staff.

Supplementary examination period

The principal supplementary examination period is in January. However, supplementary examinations for some semester I subjects are held in July, and for some semester II and full-year subjects in December. Where the approved assessment procedures for a subject include supplementary examinations in July or December, Departments will notify students of offers, dates, times and venues by posting notices on the Departmental notice-board and/or by contacting students directly. Students will need to apply directly to the relevant Faculty concerned with appropriate supporting evidence if they seek supplementary examinations in July or December on medical or compassionate grounds. Students granted supplementary examinations in January will be notified at the same time as they are notified by mail in December of their official final results in each subject in which they are enrolled. January supplementary examinations are conducted in Adelaide.

Examinations will not be arranged by the Examinations Office elsewhere or at special times for students whose permanent address is in Australia who may be absent from Adelaide for reasons not connected to their course of study.

Students planning to go away on holidays during the long vacation are advised to take this into account. Student Travel Australia (Union House) provides insurance coverage for students interrupting travel in order to return to Adelaide to sit supplementary examinations.

Students whose permanent address is overseas and who have returned to their home country are eligible to sit for January supplementary examinations offered in overseas testing centres at designated locations. In 1995, these are Hong Kong, Kuala Lumpur, Singapore. Should a student wish to take up this offer, charges apply. Please check with the Examinations Office for the latest information.

Recording of Results

The granting of medical and compassionate supplementary examinations and of academic supplementary examinations in which a 'reasonable effort' is discretionary (eg in the 40–44 range of marks in the example above) shall be made by a committee of department or Faculty examiners, not by individual examiners, to foster equity and consistency within each department.

Academic grounds

Where students have undertaken supplementary examinations on academic grounds only the final result will be recorded on the academic transcript. For students who pass subjects after academic supplementary examinations, the maximum result will be recorded on the academic transcript shall be the minimum result which will allow the student to pass to the next level in a subject: viz 50 Pass for those subjects with the grading scheme of D, C, P CP and F or 55 Pass Division 1 for those subjects with the grading scheme of D, C, P1, P2 and F.

For subjects with the grading scheme of D, C, P1, P2 and F, a result of 50 Pass Division 2 may also be recorded on the transcript. That is, in cases where a student can achieve the maximum Pass result in the subject but cannot proceed to the next level in the discipline if a Pass Division 1 is required. For example, a final mark of 53 after a supplementary examination in Biology I will be recorded on the transcript as 50 P2. This would allow the subject to be counted towards the student's degree but would not permit the student to enrol in Botany II or any other subject for which Biology I is a prerequisite.

Medical, Compassionate and Mixed grounds

The result of a supplementary examination granted on medical, compassionate or mixed grounds will be classified and the final result entered as the single final result in the subject.

Tape Recording Lectures

The University's policy is as follows:

'In general, permission for students to use a tape-recorder at University lectures will not be granted. In special cases, however, such permission may be given, but only:

- (a) if both the lecturer concerned, and the relevant Head of Department, approve; and
- (b) if the student gives a written undertaking that the recording:
 - (i) will be for his or her own exclusive use, and will not be played to any other person; and
 - (ii) will be destroyed as soon as possible after it has served its purpose.

Students who feel that in their case there are good reasons why they should be permitted to use a tape-recorder at lectures are advised to consult, in the first instance, the appropriate Head of Department. If medical considerations are involved they would also find it helpful to consult the University Health Service, and in other cases, the University's Student Counselling Service.

Section III: rules and procedures

Transferring courses (undergraduate)

Please note:

- (a) that in each degree and diploma course there is a quota on the number of new admissions in any year;
- (b) that any students wishing to enrol in a course in which he/she has not previously been enrolled must apply towards the end of the year by the prescribed date.

Application forms are available from the South Australian Tertiary Admissions Centre, 230 North Terrace, Adelaide.

Students wishing to study Law should obtain the leaflet 'Law Graduates and Students who have Completed Some University Studies' from the Admissions Officer or the Faculty Registrar (Law).
