Antarctica and Australia.

Sir Douglas Mawson's Views

No one is more conversant with the possibilities of the Antarctic than Sir Douglas Mawson, of the Adelaide University. He has written a book on the subject and to plan information in this regard a representative field scientist on the Antarctic...

Fur Farming in Antarctica.

In the future there may also arise great fur farming industry in the far south. Everybody knows what great values fur now bring, and it is not only in many parts of the world the breeding of blue Arctic foxes and other creatures...

It is a firm belief that the Antarctic is ideal for the breeding of such animals, and vast supplies of meat foods can be offered to our coast, as it would be possible to obtain them as by-products from whaling and sealing ventures...
